

European Employment Is High; Industry Favors Benefits But Worker's Lot Not Up To Yank's, Observes Local Man After Tour

Employment is high, factories are busy and European countries have made strides in recovery that range from normal to amazing but European industry cannot understand American reasons for mass production. American aid has put European countries on their feet; many of them are highly appreciative, others are less so. Generally speaking, European industry stresses social benefits for workers although the lot of the European workman falls below that of American labor. There are evidences that the preservation and advancement of the European economy will ultimately force the formation of a United States of Europe.

These are the opinions of Stuart M. Kleinfelter, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Kleinfelter, E. Broadway, following a 10-weeks tour of 11 European countries and inspection of 45 different European industries this summer as a member of a party of students from Massachusetts Institute of Technology headed by Dr. Carroll J. Brown, professor of industrial management at M.I.T. Kleinfelter, a graduate of Gettysburg High School, is a senior in the industrial management course at M.I.T. and will be graduated next June. The M.I.T. party, comprising 13 students and the director, sailed for Europe on the Italian steamer Atlantic and returned by airline from Paris.

First To Make Survey
So far as is known, Kleinfelter is the first Adams Countyman to visit and inspect so many European industries. The industrial tours were made with the help of M.I.T. graduates in the various countries and the party was given an exceptional opportunity to study European methods and industrial conditions.

When interviewed by a reporter of The Gettysburg Times, Kleinfelter emphasized his conclusions were predicated on his own observations and the discussions of the student group, their director and sponsors, following plant inspections. They are not offered, he insisted, as expert opinions and he consented to the interview only when the reporter agreed that his observations would be so presented.

"In England, employment is good and factories are busy. Nevertheless, England's stringent economy is clearly evident everywhere... in the people's dress, in their food, their cars and their future outlook. The general attitude of the English is that they are faced with a tough and an unpleasant situation and since there is nothing much to be done about it, they must get along with it as best they can. The average fellow and the factory workman appears to be hopeful and apparently believes better days are coming. Industrialists are not optimistic and appear to adhere to the belief that the problem of Britain's economy is so critical that a solution cannot be achieved alone without outside help.

Brighter In Scotland
"Scotland, on the other hand, presents a brighter view even though its economy is, to a considerable extent, tied in with that of England.

"The Scandinavian countries might be described as optimistic in a conservative rather than in a boom sense. They have achieved normal increase in production since the war and, though they are of the opinion that there will be no World War III, they are, nevertheless, preparing for future emergencies with defenses and expanded industry.

"Germany, that is western Germany, is the amazing country. With American money at the beginning but later largely on its own, Germany is possibly 75 per cent rebuilt. It is common to see Germans rebuilding and restoring war torn buildings, under flares, throughout the night.

"The west Germans are supremely confident they can restore the damages of war and restore their industry within five years pretty much under their own power. Like any country which is not overly rich, Germany requires a certain amount of foreign capital. This, however, would be completely normal even had there been no war. What Germany does not need are gifts, loans and other non-business sources of capital, such as Marshall Plan aid.

No U.S. Resentment
"They have no resentment against American soldiers although they are not necessarily happy about being occupied by foreign troops. On the other hand,

Here And There

News Collected At Random

In these days when so many are prone to question the American system and when there are those who would substitute in its place something of European origin, it is gratifying to read the observations of a student of industrial engineering, in one of the country's leading technical institutes, following a visit to Europe and an inspection of some 45 industrial plants in 11 countries in Europe.

We recommend the interview with Stuart M. Kleinfelter which appears in this issue not only as good reading but something that deserves thoughtful attention.

Putting in a nutshell all of his observations of the many industries that came under the

MRS. MENDLER DIES TUESDAY

Mrs. Helen B. Mendler, 67, wife of Otto C. Mendler, died at her home, 5 S. Franklin St., at 9:45 o'clock Tuesday night of complications.

Mrs. Mendler was born in Mifflin County, a daughter of the late David S. and Elizabeth Helman Mowery. She had resided in Gettysburg for the past 23 years, and was a member of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Charles Mendler, Carlisle; three daughters, Mrs. Raymond Ewan, Martinsburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Charles Baughman, at home, and Mrs. Rufus Reaver, Gettysburg; five grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

Funeral services at the Bender Funeral Home Saturday at 2 p.m., the Rev. Robert Knechel officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday night after 7 o'clock.

COMMITTEE TO BUY 4-H STEERS

Six new members were received into the Adams County 4-H Baby Beef Club and a committee was appointed to purchase steers at a meeting held Tuesday night at the farm of Roy Weaver, Gettysburg R. D.

Named to the purchasing committee were Roy Weaver, Ray Reichart and Parr Breighner, all fathers of members and Dean Nace, Roy Weaver Jr. and James Reichart, members of the club.

The committee is scheduled to visit a number of potential suppliers before making final selections of calves for the club.

New members in the group accepted Tuesday night were Stephen Murren, Hanover R. 4; Martha Zepp, Gettysburg R. 4; Darlene Walton, Hanover R. 4; Ray Shank, New Oxford R. 1; James Behney, York Springs R. 1 and Betty Griest, New Oxford R. D.

Of the 20 members who paid their $50 deposits for calves Tuesday evening, ten expressed preference for Angus steers and ten for Herefords. Herman Ramsburg, Westminster, presented a demonstration on fitting and showing beef animals.

TRUE BILL FOUND

A true bill against A. W. Jarvis, S. Washington St., on a worthless check charge, was found by the Franklin County grand jury at Chambersburg Monday.

Berwick Twp. Girl Is Ill With Polio

Sandra J. Laughman, aged seven months, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Laughman Jr., Berwick Twp., Hanover R. 3, is a patient in the contagious diseases ward of the Harrisburg Hospital suffering with polio.

The child was taken ill last Friday and late Monday night was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital where positive diagnosis was made. The little girl's left leg is paralyzed.

The Laughman home was placed under quarantine by William I. Shields, state sanitary officer for Adams County, late Tuesday afternoon.

EXCHANGE CLUB MEMBERS AT AREA DINNER

Twenty members of the Gettysburg Exchange Club, with approximately 80 other Exchangeites from clubs in Waynesboro, West York, York, Carlisle and Chambersburg, attended an area conference dinner meeting Tuesday night at Caledonia Manor. The Chambersburg Club was the host organization.

Max Sherman, president of the Chambersburg Club, opened the meeting, and called on the presidents of each of the six clubs, who in turn introduced the members of their respective groups. Gettysburg Exchangeites were introduced by President E. Donald Scott.

Harry Graybill, York, state vice president and area conference chairman, introduced state officers and other guests.

William Thuer, Carlisle, acted as moderator for a panel discussion. Members of the panel included Mr. Graybill, Ralph Landis, Harrisburg, state president; Wilbur Kreibitz, Chester, member of the state Board of Control and chairman of the Service Clubs for Pennsylvania Week Committee; Fred Pennington, Harrisburg, past state president.

Discuss Club Plans
Mr. Kreibitz discussed the part of service clubs in the observance of Pennsylvania Week October 13 to 19, and outlined plans for the selection of a "Mr. Pennsylvania," from names submitted by each community.

Program planning, attendance, now members, club projects and inter-club activities were among the subjects discussed by the panel, with members of the various clubs taking part in the discussion. Jay Bringman, Gettysburg, and his son, John Bringman, Carlisle, were introduced as the only father and son Exchangeite combination in the area.

Plans were made for another area conference early next year in Hanover. A similar conference was held in Gettysburg last year.

HIGH SENIOR TO ENTER MINISTRY

Richard W. Eversole, senior at Gettysburg High School, was received as a student for the ministry and placed under the care of the Mercersburg Synod, at a meeting of the Board of Examiners of the Synod Trinity Reformed Church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Eversole was presented for examination by Rev. Mark Michael.

Eight students under the care of the Synod were endorsed by the board for student aid for the coming scholastic year. One student was dropped from the roll and his name erased from the records.

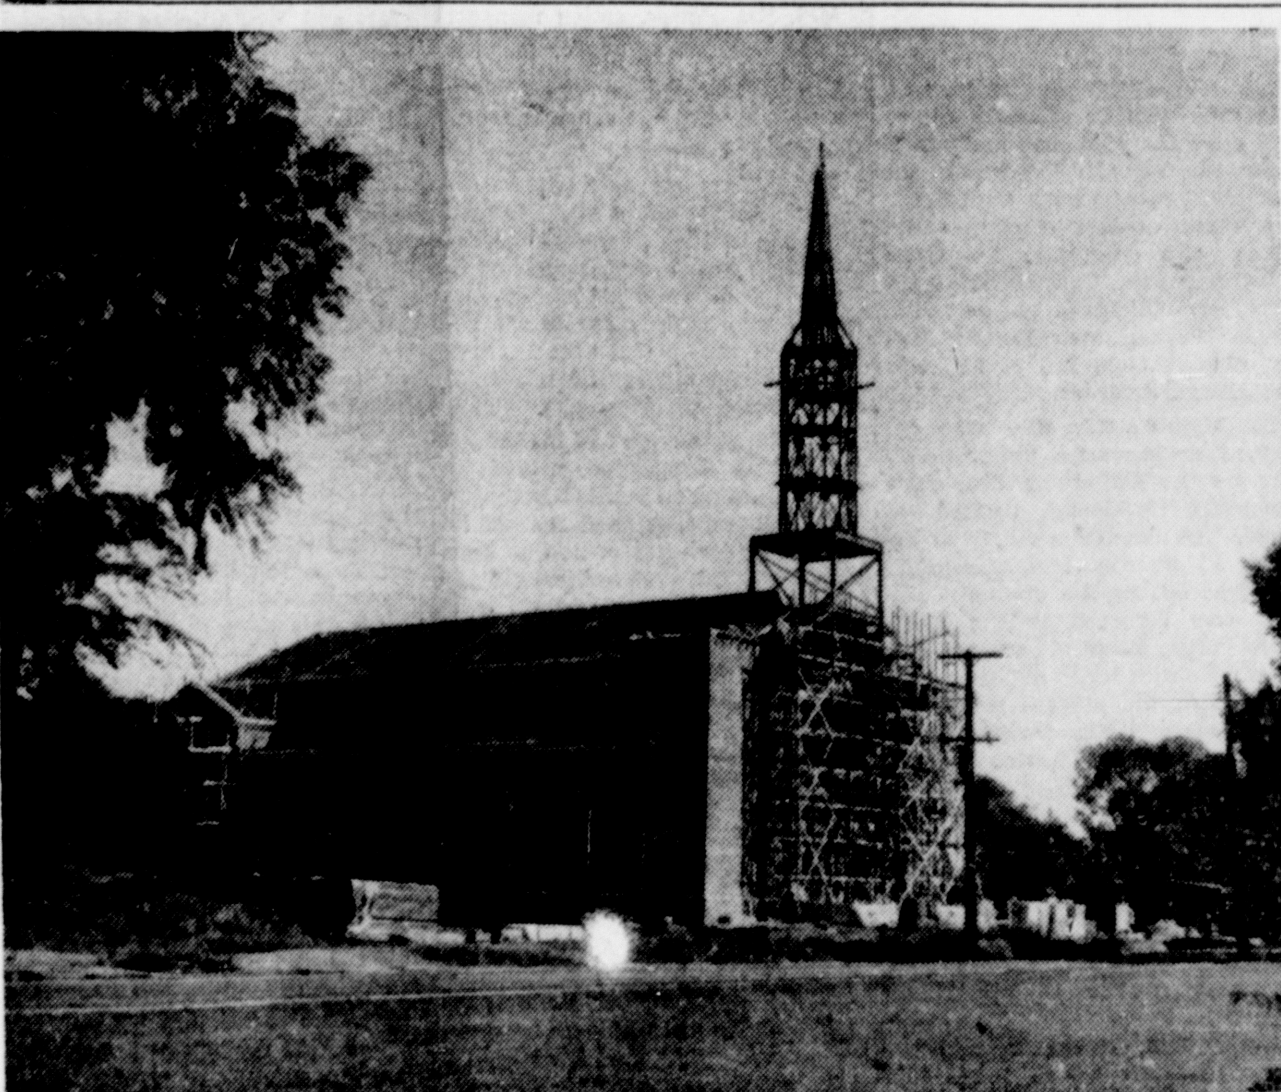

Plans were made for the annual meeting during the Christmas recess of the students and their pastors with the Synodical Council and the Board of Examiners. The meeting will be held in York.

The Rev. George W. Bricker, pastor of Trinity Church, Waynesboro, presided at Tuesday's meeting. The Rev. Dr. Nevin E. Smith, Hanover, and the Rev. Dr. Howard Schaff, York, and the president of the synod, the Rev. James W. Moyer, Mercersburg, were present at the meeting.

NEW BUILDING PERMIT

A building permit was issued by Burgess William G. Weaver today to The Gettysburg Times for additional alterations at its building and plant on Carlisle St. which include replacing a door with a window and a brick and plate glass window with glass block. The estimated cost is given as $1,500.

Freight Train Rams Crowded School Bus; 4 Pupils Killed

MONESSEN, Pa. (AP)—A freight train rammed into the rear of a crowded school bus today at near-by Collinsburg, killing four pupils and injuring 44 more, 13 of them seriously.

The bus, enroute to Rostraver High School, was almost past a street crossing when a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad train snagged its rear end and dragged it about 50 feet.

The number of passengers on the bus was estimated at 55. They included about 20 pupils picked up at Collinsburg for the trip to the school in nearby Pricedale, Westmoreland County.

Only two of the dead were identified immediately. They were Janice Everett, 17, a senior, and Dorothy Beckinger, 14, a freshman.

Gail Kozniak, 16, a junior, who was at first reported dead by Mt. Pleasant Hospital, was found to be seriously injured at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh. Mercy received seven of the victims, two of them badly hurt. Thomas Smith was also in serious condition, the hospital said.

These other hospitals reported

18 More Reds Are Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department announced today the arrest of 18 Midwest and West Coast Communist Party leaders on charges of conspiring to advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Atty. Gen. McGranery and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said those arrested included the leaders of the party in Missouri, Washington state and Michigan.

Arrests were made in St. Louis, Rock Island, Ill., Charleston, Mo., Seattle, Detroit, Los Angeles, Portland and Eugene, Ore., Chicago and Minneapolis.

Among those arrested was Helen Mary Winter, 44, wife of Carl Winter, one of the 11 top Communist leaders convicted in New York in 1949.

Mrs. Winter, picked up in Detroit, has been Michigan state organizational secretary of the party.

115 ENROLLED IN MT. SEMINARY; OPEN THURSDAY

Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, the second oldest Catholic Seminary in the United States, will begin its 145th year on Thursday.

Representing 26 dioceses this year's enrolment of 115 students, in both the philosophy and theology departments, is the largest in more than 30 years. Forty veterans of World War II are among those studying for the priesthood.

Of the 21 new students entering the seminary, 14 have transferred from Mount St. Mary's College, following a tradition of more than a century. For the past week seminarians have been on a retreat conducted by Fr. Louis F. Meyer, C.M., of St. John's University, Brooklyn.

Four Have Transferred

Four members of last year's seminary body will continue their studies elsewhere. James Daley of the Albany diocese, and Hilary Bender, of the Washington Archdiocese, will continue studies at the Theological College Catholic University; Eugene Gunning, of the Scranton diocese, resumes his studies at the North American College, Rome, Italy; James McGlinchey and Joseph Turnbach, of the Oklahoma City diocese, are transferred to St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, Philadelphia, and James Smith, of the Mobile diocese, has been changed to Mt. St. Bernard's, Dubuque, Iowa.

PLAN FASHION, BRIDGE PARTY

A fashion show and bridge will be held at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Saturday afternoon, September 27. The annual benefit, sponsored by the alumnae through the cooperation of the Baltimore, Washington, Emmitsburg and Harrisburg Chapter, will be held in Verrier Hall at 2 p.m.

A fall decor will set the theme for the affair to be presented by Hutzler Brothers, Baltimore, under the direction of Miss Claire Spicer. The latest fall fashions will be modeled by the students of the college and Baltimore alumnae.

Prizes will be awarded in bridge, five hundred and canasta. Door prizes will also be awarded.

Refreshments will be served by the Emmitsburg Chapter and Hostess Committee. The "Sweet Table," where cake, candy and cookies will be on sale, will be a feature of the affair. Tickets may be secured at Faber's, Lincoln Square, or by calling Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, Emmitsburg 26-R-4.

Admits Theft Of Watch And Bracelet

Harold M. Franklin, 30, Gettysburg, a member of the armed services, arrested Tuesday by state police of the Gettysburg substation on a burglary charge, signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Tuesday afternoon and was held for sentence court in November. He was remanded to jail in default of bail.

Franklin is charged with breaking into the home of Paul Hann, Mt. Joy Twp., Littlestown R. 2, on August 31, and stealing a Bulova wrist watch and bracelet.

Upper Adams Lions Get District Award

The achievement award for 1951-52 in the Lions District Attendance Contest, won by the Upper Adams Lions Club, was presented Tuesday night to Arnold Orner, immediate past president of the club, at a dinner meeting in the Benderville grade school building. J. B. Collins, Gettysburg, zone chairman, made the presentation.

The meeting was the first one in the new 1952-53 contest which will extend throughout the district from September to April. The program was in charge of the attendance committee, John Crawford, chairman; Roland W. Kime, Clarence G. Oyler and J. Ralph Stoner.

Seventy members and three guests were present. A movie, filmed by the Sinclair Oil Co., "Never Too Late," was shown.

BURY VICTIM OF HIT-RUN CASE THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Allison Funeral Home, Fairfield, for John Elwood Chapman, 17, of Orrtanna R. 1, victim of a hit-and-run driver on the Cashtown-Orrtanna Rd. early Monday morning. Interment was in Flohr's Church cemetery.

State police of the Gettysburg substation meanwhile continued the search for the driver of an automobile which struck Chapman along the road about a half mile south of Cashtown.

Faced with meager clues, police said today they were no nearer discovery of the hit-run driver. They were bending their efforts toward discovering someone who frequently travels this road between Fairfield and Cashtown, or between other points which would call for travel over this highway.

Chapman's movements Sunday night and early Monday morning have been traced up to approximately 2:30 a.m., police said, when he was seen in Gettysburg.

His body, with skull, right shoulder and right hip fractured, was found at 4:45 a.m. by a passing motorist.

MRS. C. H. HELDT TO TEACH ART IN YORK SPRINGS

Mrs. Charles H. Heldt, Gettysburg R. 3, was elected art teacher in the North Adams Joint School system at a meeting of the board of directors of the jointure Monday evening at the York Springs High School.

Mrs. Heldt, who taught a number of years ago in Biglerville, will serve three days a week in the North Adams jointure. She will teach all grades in all the schools, attempting to visit the outlying schools once each week or once every two weeks, depending on how a schedule can be worked out.

Appointment of Mrs. Heldt completes the teaching staff in the jointure.

Safety Patrols Operating
All of the students in the school system, 208 in the high school and 359 in the elementary schools, had individual pictures taken last

REACHES ENGLAND

Airman 3-c Gene L. Davis, has arrived in England according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Florence Davis, 22 York St.

COMMISSIONERS WILL RE-BUILD ANNEX AT HOME

The Adams County Commissioners this morning voted to ask for bids for reconstruction of the "annex" building at the county home with the hope that the structure formerly used to house insane inmates can be refitted into modern living quarters by next spring.

Drawings for the new 24-room structure will be available after Thursday at the county commissioners' office or at the office of Architect J. Alfred Hamme at York, the commissioners said.

Bids for the reconstruction will be received up to 3 p.m., October 7, at the commissioners office and the bids will be opened at 10 a.m., on October 8 at the Court House.

Have State Okay

The architect met with the commissioners this morning to show them the plans for the proposed renovation program and to inform them that approval of the plans had been given by the State Department of Labor and Industry, the State Welfare Department and other state agencies involved.

An invitation for bids was immediately made out, to be published starting Thursday, in order to expedite the work. All the commissioners expressed themselves as anxious for the work to begin.

"There had been delay enough waiting approval to go ahead," Commissioner Karl J. Smith said. Originally the commissioners discussed setting the date for opening bids as October 1, the earliest date at which such bids could be legally opened. It was decided however, at the suggestion of the architect, to delay the opening of bids to October 8 to give contractors "a little more time to work out their bids."

Change In Plans

Original plans, when the renovation of the annex building was first proposed, called for it to be used as an infirmary. Increased population at the home, however, has led to a switch in plans, Commissioner G. Ed Taubman explained. The 20 bedrooms of the new structure will be used as living quarters for guests at the home. However the renovation plans call for equipping the rooms and building in such fashion that some or all of the rooms can be used in emergency as an infirmary.

The proposed work includes the removal of the interior of the brick building. Originally set up as an asylum, it is made of thick brick walled cells. Only the shell of the building will be used for the new construction. The entirely new interior will be built of fire-resistant materials. Floors will be concrete with asphalt tile overlay. There will be 12 rooms on each of two floors. Ten rooms on each floor will be used for guests, the other two for attendants. Men will have quarters on the first floor and women on the second floor.

The building will be joined to the dining room section of the Women's Home.

Yank Jet Ace Bags 8th MIG As Allies Hit Many Targets

SEOUL, Korea, (AP)—America's leading jet ace in Korea today shot down his eighth Russian-made MIG 15 as Allied fighter-bombers hammered Red targets from the battle front to near the Manchurian border.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said Maj. Frederick C. Blesse, who has flown more than 250 combat missions in Korea, scored his eighth kill in a fight between four Sabre jets and nine MIGs near Sakchu in Northwest Korea.

The victory raised the allied bag of MIGs in September to 47—three more than the previous monthly high of 44 in April.

U. S. Shooting Star jets swarmed over a Communist storage area and placed gold mine south of Kowon near the East coast.

Blast Railroad

Fighter-bombers attacked a rail line southeast of Anju in Northwest Korea and pilots reported the rail bed was cratered in six places. B26 light bomber pilots reported hits on three rail bridges west of Kowon.

The Air Force said Thunderjets, U. S. Marine Panther Jets and propeller driven Mustangs attacked three troop concentrations in the Sariwon area of Western Korea. Pilots said 29 buildings were destroyed and 14 damaged. Exploding bombs started 14 fires and caused three secondary explosions, the pilots reported.

Other fighter planes attacked Communist front line positions in the vicinity of Capitol Hill and Finger Ridge on the Central Front.

The hard air blows against the Reds followed destructive raids against Communist supply vehicles last night by U. S. light bombers.

they definitely understand that without the American army in Germany the Russians would be there in 24 hours. It appears that the Germans are building peace-time industry and restoring war damage but not for defense for they believe that Russia could and would walk in and take over except for the presence of American and Allied armies.

"The western Germans appreciate how much better off they are than the eastern Germans and attribute the advantage entirely to the difference in the respective occupation forces. They have great sympathy for their eastern countrymen in their tragedy and poverty and know this can only be so on account of the Russian occupation forces as normally the eastern Germans would recover and advance as rapidly as the western Germans. They have confidence in the ultimate restoration of eastern Germany but have the definite fear that young generations of eastern Germans may be converted in communism if they are under the influence of the Russians long enough."

Italy Almost Rebuilt

Italy, according to Kleinfelter, is almost completely rebuilt and almost entirely with American money. "Yet, economic conditions are very bad and there is much unemployment," he said.

"In some sections factories flourish and working conditions are excellent and employee-employer relationships are the best. In other sections, where communism flourishes, the exact opposite prevails," Kleinfelter added.

In this connection he referred to one industry that provides modern apartment housing, recreation and social benefit programs for its employees, and has excellent employee-employer relationships where, as, fifty miles away another principal industry, maintaining no social benefits for its employees operates under a relationship of fear and hostility to an extent that an executive scarcely dares to venture into the factory. At this factory the M.I.T. group was conducted through the plant in a bus. Whether this precaution was taken for the personal safety of the students because of anti-American feeling or in order to prevent the visiting students from talking with the employees, Kleinfelter did not venture a guess. He said the company guide was reluctant to give any information concerning the plant and its operation or employee relations, and what little they were able to ascertain they were secured by constant prodding. The industrial area in which this plant is located is obviously communistic with the hammer and sickle on display generally.

France Last To Rebuild

"France trails all of the war-torn countries in the rate of rebuilding although it was not so badly damaged to start with. We witnessed many ruins not only of the second World War but also of the first World War which they have never undertaken to rebuild.

"Holland shows strong evidence of industry and sound prosperity as does, of course, Switzerland. We spent a matter of hours in Austria but made no stops in that country."

Asked his opinion of the differences in American and European industries, Kleinfelter, again qualifying his answer as that of a student observer and not as an expert, said:

Can't Mass Produce

"The Europeans cannot comprehend the American reasons for mass producing. They are inclined to expert and precision work and cannot see how they can maintain such quality and still produce on a mass basis. Nor can they see why they should produce on a mass basis. They could easily duplicate the American genius for turning out huge quantities, but they cannot see that low profit margin and high volume is a better road to sound economy than their own high profit margin with low volume. Furthermore, they cannot figure how to get sufficient money to the masses to purchase their product if they did mass produce. . . something American industry learned a century ago!

"Also, they are hounded by national boundaries with accompanying economic barriers. They are under the impression that American manufacturers can compete on even terms in markets throughout the American continent and have difficulty in comprehending that freight rates and transportation charges likewise restrict the markets of American firms."

"There are strong evidences that the ideal of a United States of Europe is now in the process of formation and we left with the opinion that a society of European nations may possibly come into being in the not too distant future."

The countries visited by the M.I.T. group were England, Scotland, France, Western Germany, Norway, Denmark, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Holland and Sweden.

WAIVES HEARING

John Robert Fair, York Springs E. 2, has waived a hearing before Justice of the Peace John R. Hinkle, York Springs R. 1, on a charge of speeding brought by state police, according to a return made to the county clerk of courts.

MORE POLIO IN EMMITSBURG

Two more cases of polio were reported Tuesday in Emmitsburg, bringing to four the number of children now known to be suffering from the disease in that borough.

Dr. James Allison, who is physician for one of the new cases, said "the number of cases is getting near the epidemic mark if it has not exceeded it." Three of the four children who have the disease live within a block of each other.

The two youngsters reported Tuesday were Charles Wastler, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wastler, and Sterling Myers, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Myers.

The Myers child, who was described as having a "very mild" case by Dr. William R. Cadie, his physician, is being treated at home. The Wastler child, who became ill Sunday and was diagnosed as having the disease Tuesday, was removed to the Baltimore City Hospital where two other Emmitsburg children are patients at the present time with the disease. The three-year-old was described as having no actual paralysis, but with having weakness in the arms and back.

Will Induct 36 Men From County Oct. 1

The Adams County Draft Board today received the largest call for inductees since its re-establishment in 1948.

Thirty-six men are called for duty with the armed forces on October 1, according to the message received by the board from state headquarters.

The group will report at 6:30 a.m. on October 1 to the board office in the First National Bank Building and will leave for Harrisburg and induction into the armed forces at 6 a.m.

Ten previously calls had been from three to ten men a month on an average. At times no calls were made for several months.

Appoint Instructor In Sociology Dept.

Richard Tommason, a graduate of Gettysburg College in 1949, has accepted a position as instructor in Sociology at Gettysburg College, according to an announcement by President Dr. Walter C. Langsam.

Mr. Tommason, who has done graduate work at New York University, received his M. A. degree from the University of Illinois this year. During the summer he traveled in Europe and spent the greater portion of his time in Norway and Yugoslavia. He is single and a member of Kappa Delta Rho national social fraternity.

P. G. PENSINGER HEAD OF ACCEH

Paul G. Pensinger was re-elected chairman of the Adams County Committee for Employment of the Handicapped at a meeting of the group Tuesday evening at the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service office. Dr. C. Harold Johnson was re-elected vice chairman and Arthur J. Roth, secretary.

Mrs. Eva Botter, acting manager of the local PSES office, reported that there are seven handicapped persons listed in the active registration file of her office.

Roy E. Zinn, manager of the Harrisburg District Office of the Bureau of Rehabilitation, expressed the belief that there are many other handicapped employables in the county who never come to the attention of the various agencies concerned because "they do not know many of the agencies exist."

He told of the work of his bureau in assisting handicapped persons by giving training in work they can do despite handicaps and named a number of county persons who were helped to "full and active lives" as a result of such training.

The group voted to make every effort to develop interest in employment of handicapped persons during National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, October 5 to 11. Radio programs and newspaper publicity were planned for the week. William Harbaugh was named as radio publicity chairman. Plans were discussed for an essay contest with local prizes in conjunction with a national contest. A poster contest for art students was also discussed. Blaine Hughes, manager of the Duffy-Mott plant at Aspers, said his company would provide a share of prize money needed for such programs.

study of the M.I.T. party of which he was a member, the predominant thing that stands out is the difference in basic philosophy of European and American industry—which is to say the difference between the European way of life and the American way of life.

The student group of which the Gettysburg young man was a member was quick to note that the European system sees no reason to mass produce so as to make goods available to all the population. The students also discovered that the European system has no concept of getting sufficient money in the hands of the masses to establish wide markets through their ability to purchase, which, in turn, compels the manufacture of goods at constantly reduced cost. Kleinfelter very aptly states it when he says "that is something that American industry learned a century ago."

It must have been difficult for the students of industrial engineering to accept the inability of Europeans to understand the reasons for mass production and their ability to comprehend that the combination of low unit profit and high volume makes a more sound economy than the theory of maintaining high profits with low volume.

America is what it is today because our forefathers in writing the Constitution, in creating industry and in establishing methods of distribution unfailingly upheld the dignity of the individual. The American system provides that under the Constitution, industry — both large and small — mercantile and service establishments and the professions have a common objective, a common purpose and but one reason for their existence — service to the entire American population.

Under the American system, the pressure of competition improves methods and tools which in turn produce better products at reduced costs. The American system was a sharp break, made long ago, from the economic system of the Old World where competition was replaced by a system of government-approved cartels, trusts and trade agreements with accompanying price-fixing and restrictions in distribution.

buffon. The result of this sort of government protection — or rather, government control — was that the efficiency of European plant and equipment fell far behind.

American industry has fulfilled and is fulfilling its destiny because it is free. It has ever given greater and better employment which in turn has provided the market for more and better goods and services which, as volume increased, were produced cheaper and therefore became available to more people.

Unlike European industry, American industry has always recognized the dignity of the individual and has always responded to its responsibility of providing for the American population the world's highest standard of living.

The M.I.T. students had visibly demonstrated to them a lesson that no American should for a moment forget,

GIANTS GAMBLE ON ROOKIE AND LOSE TO CUBS

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

"I just gambled and lost, that's all."

The quotes are those of Manager Leo Durocher, who yesterday assented to the experts, fans, opposition and his own players by pinning the New York Giants' pennant hopes on the shoulders of a pitching neophyte who had never hurled an inning of big league ball.

The youngster is 25-year-old Jack Harshman, a former first-base fop, who turned to minor league pitching last spring and was brought up to the Giants day before yesterday after a 7-7 record with Minneapolis of the American Association.

Dodgers Win

Harshman walked to the mound under his own power but collapsed quickly and the Chicago Cubs, behind Warren Hacker, breezed to a 9-0 victory. The defeat was the more bitter because it was followed by Brooklyn's 4-2 triumph over Pittsburgh that boosted the Dodgers' National League lead over the Giants to four games with only 10 to go for each side.

"I had to go with Harshman. Who else did I have? The others are all overworked," Durocher said.

Heartened by the Giants' loss, the Brooks stepped out in the evening and knocked off the Pirates with the help of home runs by Gil Hodges and Duke Snider. Gil hammered his 32nd off slider Murry Dickson. Snider hit his 20th of the year in the fourth.

Tribes, Yanks Win

Cleveland remained stationary in its pursuit of the American League-leading New York Yankees despite their 10-inning 4-3 triumph over the Washington Senators. The Yankees maintained their 2½-game margin—with 10 to go—when rookie southpaw Bill Miller twirled a three hit 7-0 shutout over the Detroit Tigers. Joe Collins and Hank Bauer homered to hand Art Houtteman his 19th loss. It was the Yankees' fifth straight win.

Mike Garcia kept the Indians in the running, spinning a 10-hitter for his 21st triumph against 10 defeats.

The St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within 3½ games of the second-place Giants, sweeping a two-night twin-bill from Boston's Braves, 8-6 and 5-1. The Redbirds smashed six homers, two by Solly Hemus as Stu Miller and Harry Brecheen were credited with victories over Warren Spahn and Ernie Johnson.

25th For Robin Roberts

Robin Roberts became the first National League pitcher since 1939 to reach 25 victories when he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Chicago's White Sox protected their third-place position in the American League, dividing a doubleheader with the Philadelphia A's. Dave Philley's homer and Harry Byrd's seven-hit pitching won the opener for the A's 2-1. An 11-hit attack helped the Sox take the nightcap, 7-1.

Rookie Jim Dyck blasted a pair of homers for the St. Louis Browns but it could not overcome an early seven-run lead piled up by the Boston Red Sox, who won, 11-7, to take fifth place from the Senators.

TWILIGHT BASEBALL LOOP

Arendtsville and Orrtanna played another tie game Tuesday evening at Arendtsville in their attempt to settle the playoff titlist in the Twilight Baseball League. No score resulted and the game was halted by darkness after six frames.

Arendtsville leads 2-0 in the best of five series. On September 9 the teams played a 1-1 tie at Arendtsville and last Thursday no game was played due to the failure of umpires to show up for the game.

Tuesday's game was a brilliant hurling duel between Sterling Singley and Eugene Kane. Singley gave up but two hits to Orrtanna while Kane allowed but three.

Arendtsville made the best bid for a score in the fifth when Sterling Singley led off with a triple. Donald Wenk was tossed out by Kane, Singley holding base. Warner was passed. Bushman, batting for Taylor, popped to Kane who doubled Singley off third on a quick throw to Bill Singley.

Eastern League

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (P)—The Binghamton Triplets and the Reading Indians tangled here tonight in the first game of a best-of-seven series for the Governor's Cup, prize of the Eastern League playoffs.

The Triplets last night belted their way into the finals with an 8-3 victory over the visiting Schenectady Blue Jays. Binghamton won the semi-final series, 4-3, after trailing 3-1.

In the other semi-final, Reading previously eliminated Albany, four games to one.

Robin Roberts Makes Early Bid For Fame

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Robin Roberts, young pitching sensation of the Philadelphia Phillies, is putting in an early bid to join baseball's all-time mound greats.

The 25-year-old hurler, who has already chalked up 20 or more victories in three consecutive seasons, handcuffed the Cincinnati Reds, 4-2 on five hits last night to become the first National League pitcher to win 25 games since Paul Derringer and Buck Walters won 25 and 27 respectively for the same Reds in 1939. Roberts has lost seven.

INTERSTATE TO OPERATE AGAIN DESPITE LOSSES

HARRISBURG (P)—Despite a loss in money all around the circuit, Interstate League club officials are optimistic over the Class B group's prospects for operation next year.

A survey of all eight clubs by the Associated Press showed that even though all operated in the red this season they still will make an attempt to play again in 1953.

The most optimistic note came from league president Gerald P. Nugent while owner Bob Carpenter of Wilmington was the most pessimistic. The Delaware club, which finished fifth, saw its attendance drop to 26,242, lowest in the team's history.

"The league will operate next year so far as we can see now," said Nugent, adding:

May Change Cities

"There has been some talk about realignment of the cities in the league and that might come about. However, I am sure we will have eight franchises when the season opens."

Carpenter, who also owns the Philadelphia Phillies, parent club of the Blue Rocks, said he definitely will not operate if the league is less than an eight-team affair.

However, all seven other owners indicated they are making plans for next year and are awaiting a helping hand from the major leagues.

Nugent said attendance was "generally better in the second half of the season. The bad weather hurt in the opening days of the season and then the political conventions caused a diversion which took up the month of July."

The former Phillies president noted that York and Salisbury fared better this year than last in attendance.

Pimlico Futurity Listed November 1

Headed by Alfred Vanderbilt's undefeated Native Dancer, winner of five stakes to date, a total of 150 two-year-olds remain eligible for the Pimlico Futurity which will gross more than $70,000 and is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 1.

Always one of the top attractions of the fall season in Maryland, the Futurity in the past has been won by such turf stalwarts as Capot, Citation, Oil Capitol, Jet Pilot and Count Fleet, to mention a few of the more recent victors. The array of talent available for this year's renewal is such that another "championship" contest may be anticipated.

Loses Purse, Money; One Bike Recovered

Mrs. Gertrude Winebrenner, 449 Baltimore St., reported to borough police Tuesday evening the loss of her pocketbook, containing cards and money, on York St. Tuesday.

Two bicycles were reported stolen at the high school Tuesday afternoon. One was later recovered.

Donald Sadler reported his Western Flyer, painted red with white trim, taken, and Russell Lemaster, 135 Buford Ave., said his Lightning Flyer was stolen. Lemaster later found his bike, police said.

Man Is Jailed For Drunken Driving

Robert W. Mohn, 27, of Waynesboro R. 4, arrested at 10:15 p.m. Sunday near Zora on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants, signed a plea of guilty Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, and was held for sentence court in November. He was remanded to the Adams County jail in default of bail.

Today's Talk

WHAT FAITH HATH BROUGHT

Just stop and think for a moment upon what faith has done in the world. Did anyone ever start, or attempt, anything that was worth while without it? Think of the discoverers, the pioneers, the builders of houses, great buildings, machines, and the creators of endless things that have blessed all mankind. It all started with the one essential to capital — faith.Benjamin Franklin once wrote of a man during his time in Philadelphia who frowned on everything. He was an habitual croaker. He said that Philadelphia had no future, that it was on its way to disaster, that it would never be a place of opportunity, that it was on its way to bankruptcy, and he told Franklin that he was a fool to engage in the printing business. This man would not even own a house, but years later he had to pay five times the price that he could have gotten one for during the days when he had no faith in Philadelphia's future. As all the world knows, Franklin had faith, — and worked it overtime!Columbus had this thing called faith, so did the Pilgrim fathers, so did the early pioneers who cleared the forests, built cities, and kept their vision unclouded. Edison had it. So did Henry Ford. So did Lincoln during the darkest days of the Republic. Without faith no worthwhile enterprise can be achieved.No matter in what direction you may look you will note the results of faith. We get our cue for its inspiration from the stars! The farmer tills his soil, and plants his seed because he has faith that it will bring results in a harvest.
We board our train and think nothing of our safety because we have faith in the engineer. Faith in God has often worked miracles.We have friends because we have faith in them, and they in us. Without it we would be lonely and unhappy creatures. From Michael Fairless's "The Roadmen-er" I quote: "To have faith is to create; to have hope is to call down blessing; to have love is to work miracles."Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Memorials."

CONSTITUTION DAY
In the Constitution lies Everything that free men prize.
Right to earn and right to keep.
Right to sow and right to reap.
Well it is to call to mind
This the day that it was signed.None a richer treasure knows
Than the rights which it bestows.
In the Constitution we All have freedom's guarantee,
Hope and dream of all mankind
Clearly penned and boldly signed.Tyranny rule by fear of might,
Caring little for the right,
But the Constitution stays
Text and guard of nobler ways;
Bond of everything that's good,
Love of God and brotherhood.

HOT RESENTMENT
TOWARD "BIG LIE"WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman voiced hot resentment today over "use of what he termed
"the big lie" to reflect on government employee loyalty and to call Gen. George C. Marshall "a traitor."Truman didn't name names, but he asked the voters to defeat the users of "the big lie" regardless of party affiliation.He told the National Conference on Citizenship here:
"It is a big lie, for example, to say that we tolerate Communists and other disloyal persons in our government. It is a big lie to attack one of the greatest generals and patriots whom this country ever had and call him a traitor."McCarthy and Jenner Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican seeking re-election, has denounced Gen. Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson as "monumental liars" and has said that Marshall is "steeped in falsehood." He also has described Marshall as a "mysterious, powerful figure" who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace for America."Sen. William E. Jenner, Indiana Republican also up for re-election, has called Gen. Marshall a "living lie" and "front man for traitors."Truman, addressing a conference attended by a group of men and women about to be admitted to United States citizenship, declared that "communism inside this country has been badly beaten."Another Danger
"But communism never gives up its efforts to weaken our nations from within," he declared. "It seeks to use all the weapons of propaganda—to stir up and confuse the people; and it also seeks to place its hidden agents in positions of trust and power.""In this country, we have been waging a relentless fight against this internal attack of communism."But he said that "the big lie" is another danger threatening democracy from within.A Red Technique
"Unfortunately, there is a tendency in this country today to resort to the use of the big lie in order to reap personal or partisan advantage. . . ."A man who uses the weapon of the big lie is not a good man. He should be rejected by all good citizens, regardless of party. Partisan feeling often runs high in election campaigns. That is understandable, but it should not lead us to permit the use of this dangerous Communist technique in American politics."6 Fighter Pilots and Region 2 with headquarters at Lock Haven."This action is taken in the interest of greater efficiency and economy and will result in decided financial, personnel and equipment savings," Lewis said.Regional forester Richard R.

Haupt, Clearfield, will be assigned to a subordinate position to be determined, the secretary told a news man.Absorb Districts
The consolidation means that the Logan, Penn. and Bald Eagle forest districts, formerly part of Region
5, will be absorbed by Region 4.
Those districts include Snyder and Union Counties and parts of Centre, Clinton, Mifflin, Huntingdon, Blair and Juniata.The Moshannon forest district, which comprised the remainder of Region 5, will be taken into Region 2. The Moshannon district includes parts of Clearfield and Centre Counties.The reshuffling restores the department's regional setup to the status of August, 1950, when Milo F. Draemel, former forests and waters secretary, created Region 5."There will be no reduction of contacts between the public and district foresters," said Lewis.NEW SLOWDOWN AT RUSS BORDERBERLIN (AP)—A new Russian border slowdown was imposed on traffic en route to Berlin this afternoon accentuating the plight of West German truckers who threaten to strike at midnight. The truckers say the delays cause a boost in cost of operations and they want a subsidy to help them out.Soviet zone frontier guards were clearing the heavily loaded trucks for Berlin at the rate of only five an hour, half the speed regarded as normal.A backlog of 200 waiting trucks promptly jumped to 250 and stretched along the autobahn at the Helmstedt border almost five miles long.Earlier in the day, the Communist police had stepped up their operations to permit scores of trucks with fresh milk for West Berlin to clear rapidly. As soon as the milk trucks were through they reverted to their slow, deliberate tactics.STRAND THEATRE

AND STEVENSON
CONFER TODAYBy RELMAN MORIN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Sen. J.
William Fulbright of Arkansas flew to Springfield through a roaring rainstorm late last night and went immediately to Gov. Adlai Stevenson's office in the executive mansion.Fulbright said he is supporting Stevenson in the presidential campaign.But he told newsmen he wants to hear the governor's idea about some of the decisive issues of the campaign. Namely civil rights legislation, the Taft-Hartley act, and Stevenson's position on Senate Rule 22, which requires a two-thirds majority vote to shut off debate.Busy With Conferences Stevenson held conferences yesterday with Democratic candidates in two key states.Thomas Fairchild, Democratic candidate opposing Republican Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, of Wisconsin, told reporters he has "a very good fighting chance" to unseat McCarthy in November. He said he has asked Stevenson to campaign in Wisconsin, but evaded questions about Stevenson's plans.Stevenson also conferred yesterday with Frank C. Clement, Democratic candidate for governor of Tennessee.Heads For New England
Clement said, "Many of us do not agree with everything Gov.
Stevenson has had to say." But he added he believes most Southerners "take the broad view that there are unsatisfactory parts to both the Republican and Democratic platforms."He said he did not discuss the civil rights issue with Stevenson.Stevenson is scheduled to leave Springfield, Thursday morning, fly to Bridgeport Conn., and there begin campaigning in the East. His schedule calls for speeches in Hartford, Conn., Springfield, Mass., Richmond, Va., New York City and Baltimore.He also will make a number of motorcade stops in Connecticut and Massachusetts and visit the Ma-where his son received a commission Saturday.LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—A six-year-

FARMERS' DAYS OCTOBER 16-18 AT DILLSBURG; PLAN 2 PARADES

With a new sponsor, more prizes being offered than ever before and with the competitive exhibits grouped in a single building instead of being scattered at the various business places of the town, Farmers' Days in Dillsburg this year promise to set a new high mark in the annals of that community event that has become an annual highlight of community life there.

Farmers' Days this year are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 16, 17 and 18.

The event that traces its beginnings back nearly a half century is being sponsored this year by the newly-incorporated Dillsburg Community Fair Association. For the last several years it has been sponsored by the Better Business Bureau but the new corporation was formed recently to take charge of the event. Highlights of the three-day program will be the Kiddies' Parade on Friday and the Fantastic Parade on Saturday evening. Miss Janice Crawford is in charge of the Kiddies' procession plans and Earl Karns is directing plans for the Fantastic Parade on the final night of the celebration.

Exhibits in Community Building. W. O. Downs is chairman of exhibits and it has been announced that this year all of the farm exhibits will be shown together in the Community building rather than at various business places.

H. V. Sporlein is president of the fair association; Richard Deardorff, vice president; Mrs. John Yohe, secretary, and S. A. Dick, treasurer. These officers together with a board of directors are guiding the affairs of the association.

Farmers' Days are said to have originated with the Farmers' Institute begun in 1905 at the high school building and held later at the opera house. Two floors of the opera house were occupied by the displays in 1911 and in that year a businessmen's organization was formed to take charge of the event. By 1914 it had

PLAN PARADE AT YORK SPRINGS FOR HALLOWEEN

Committees for the annual Halloween parade were named Tuesday evening at a meeting of the York Springs Lions Club held at the Cozy Nook Restaurant.

October 25 was named as the date for the annual event, with October 27 set as the rain date. President Jack Hershey named Wilbur Cassel, supervising principal of the North Adams joint school system, and Rev. Amos D. Meyers, York Springs Methodist minister, as general chairmen for the annual event.

Other committee appointments included: Publicity, Preston Zerbe; advertising and finance, Donald Miller, Paul Trump, R. L. Pittenturf and Melvin Prosser; safety, Elmer Goldsmith and Kent Golden; parade and band, Ross Koons, Cloyd Shank, Fred Stough, Baird Hershey, Rev. Norman Bortner and John Breighner; judges, M. S. Hershey, James Hardy.

Refreshments, Harold Smith, Edgar Smith, William Lott, N. D. Stary, Merle Huff; prizes, Glenn Kemper, Clyde Kennedy, Harold Miller; lights, R. C. Kennedy, Ray Reinecker.

Speaker at Tuesday's session of the Lions was Maj. Cyrus Grayson, of the Harrisburg Detachment Air Force Filter Center, who told the group of the work of Civil Defense throughout the state, particularly the work of the various air observation posts which report to the filter center. He described how the reports of the observers are plotted on a map at the filter center, giving the path and speed of planes in flight over the state.

CLASS PLANS TO ELECT OFFICERS

The monthly meeting of the Willing Workers Society of the York Springs Lutheran Church was held Tuesday evening at the church. After the business meeting games were played. The guessing box was won by Mrs. Merle Huff. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stella Stallsmith and Mary Myers. Election of officers will be held at the October meeting with the present officers, Mrs. Isabella Guise, Mrs. Cora Weidner and Goldie Jacobs, in charge. The group is planning to sell candy at the Halloween parade.

Rev. Norman Bortner, Preston Zerby and Donald Guiden Tuesday evening attended a musical workshop conducted by the Central Pennsylvania Synod at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Huff and Mr. and Mrs. John Spence have returned from a two-week trip to Florida.

Returns To Air Base
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Croft and daughter, Ruth, Mercersburg, visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin. While here they attended the home-coming at Rock Chapel.

Richard Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Miller, Gardners R. D., has returned to Sampson, N. Y. Air Force Base. A few hours after Richard Miller left to return to his base Monday night, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller arrived on furlough from an air base at Syracuse, N. Y.

Miss Ludwig, of Harrisburg, is a house guest of Miriam Hogue.

300 At Home-coming.
Clifford Snyder, son of Mrs. Zoe E. Snyder, left Monday for New York where he is studying for his master's degree in vocal music at the Juilliard Academy. He graduated recently from Eastman College. While here the young baritone made a number of singing appearances, including developed into a one-evening program. After a two-year gap during World War I, Farmers' Days were resumed in 1919 and it was in 1933 that the schools began taking part and the event grew steadily to its present three-day proportions.

FIRE AUXILIARY SERVES MEAL AT DEMONSTRATION

At noon today, members of the Dillsburg Fire Company Auxiliary began serving lunch to an estimated 350 farmers and International Harvester dealers from 28 counties gathered for an all-afternoon demonstration at the A. A. "Gus" McWilliams farm, three miles northwest of Dillsburg. Mrs. Kathryn McCurdy is chairman of the group serving the meal.

G. S. Hess of the Dillsburg Farm Supply Company is host dealer for the demonstration which will make use of 43 tractors each with at least one piece of equipment. Lawnmowers, snow plows, dirt movers, ditch diggers, wood and many other types of equipment that can be powered by IH tractors are on display. A 50 x 120 foot tent has been erected as headquarters for the demonstration which will make use of a 50-acre section of the McWilliams property.

T. D. Stentz, Harrisburg district manager, is in charge of the demonstration which has attracted dealers and farmers from an area extending west to Bedford, east to Berks and Lancaster Counties and south to the Maryland line. Assisting Stentz are Richard W. Hough, assistant district manager, and these men from the Harrisburg district office: H. E. Rinehart, H. W. Moody Jr., J. H. Shuey Jr. and C. V. Reed. Daniel J. Wolf and M. J. Sheffer, Inc., Littlestown, are among the dealers attending and both sent equipment to be used in the demonstration.

MIDGET BALL VERY POPULAR

With the "Midget" baseball season in Dillsburg recently completed, plans are already being made for a bigger and better season next year. Dillsburg and vicinity youngsters between 9 and 12 years of age played in the West Shore Midget League, and finished second. They want first place and the pennant next year.

The popularity of midget baseball in this community is attested by the fact that considerably more persons turned out consistently throughout the season this summer to see the youngsters play than attended the regular baseball games, according to Dillsburg authorities.

Saw Major League Game
William C. Evans, principal of the joint school, was chairman of the committee in charge of the midget baseball, and the Rev. Leslie McCrea was coach. Roy L. Krall, Dillsburg, acted as secretary and treasurer. Other members of the committee included J. Gray Jones, Roy W. Smith, Leon Gillette and the chief of police, Donald K. Fry.

At the close of the season, the midget baseballers were taken to Philadelphia to see a major league baseball game. The trip was made by bus, meals furnished and a gala time was enjoyed by the youngsters. Among the players were Garry Gettys, Daniel Grove, Edward Zinn, Donald Cook, Gerald Yost, Jerry Brownwell, Edward Myers, Ronald Wolf, William Spahr, Earl Books, Edward Rahn, John Miller, Daniel Fisher, Bruce Banes, Thomas Harter, James Cromer, Alan Staum and "Skip" Runk.

Monaghan Kirk Club Opens Fall Sessions

The first fall meeting of the Monaghan Kirk Club of the Dillsburg Presbyterian Church was held Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knaub.

The program consisted of a panel discussion on "Methods of Selecting a Presidential Candidate" with lively participation by all members and guests in attendance. Guests included Attorney and Mrs. John Logan of York and Miss May Thompson, an attorney from New York.

that of soloist at the Gettysburg Reformed Church.

Approximately 300 attended the annual Rock Chapel home-coming last Sunday. Rev. Dr. Guy L. Welliver, president of Westminster Theological Seminary, was the speaker. A girls' octet from the Methodist children's home at Mechanicsburg sang a number of selections including "Song of the Angels," "Praise Ye The Lord," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "God So Love the World," "Beyond the Sunset," "Glory to the Newborn King," and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

For the service the church was repainted and renovated. Church officials and former ministers attended as well as lay people from throughout this section.

MY DAZE

HELLO... Lordy, imagine the TIMES, a big town newspaper printing our column... Who knows, I may even be syndicated after a while... maybe even sued. After all, a guy isn't in the big time till he gets sued once or twice! Come to think of it — We haven't been threatened since Alton Zerby accepted an "out of court" settlement from us!

PEOPLE... Lt. Hubert (wonder if the "boys" call him Hubert?) Smith due back in Dillsburg for a short furlough, before he takes an ocean trip... Skip, as he is better known, is the son of Col. Bud Smith of his old man!... Fred Stough, the garage mogul from York Springs holds the strike-out record for his local Lions Club... Seems like I can recall Fred being called out on strikes three consecutive times while playing softball... against the superior Dillsburg Lions, naturally.

Harley Sporlein's back home after a stay at the Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg... His wife took one look at the pretty nurses there... and ordered him OUT! Seriously though, Harley's coming along fine, recuperating at his home.

Call him and say "Hello!"

DILLSBURG'S Farmers' Day is just about set to go, except for Casey Gerber and Earl Karns not being able to find a route for the annual Fantastic Parade... Seems like the new road to G'burg is the cause of the trouble... We just ain't got no street to parade on... I have been informed, however, that there WILL be a parade — even if we have to run it through somebody's back yard! Keep that date open folks — October 17-18, Friday and Saturday... then comon' down and have the time of your lives...

THIS 'N THAT... Local J. C. C's are making ready for the little Dillsburg World Series... They will play Metropolitan-Edison for the Championship of Greater Dillsburg. Winners to receive a free, all-expense tour to York Springs (and back). This game, of course, will not be broadcast, or televised. You are urged to attend the game of the year! See the great Don Jones pitch for Metro E... On second thought, better skip the whole thing and see a good movie... Days are getting shorter and colder... Better check last year's long underwear and make sure it isn't full of moth holes... Might be kinda drafty.

Saw a pair of Red trousers in Harry Grimes Store... I've been waiting outside every afternoon to see which character would buy them!... Local Post Office on its last legs... Postmaster spotted hitching a ride to deliver a "special"... Wonder why York Springs never put a traffic light at the main intersection, along the Gettysburg road?... Oh yes, if you know of any baby sitters (female only) who need a "sitter" pleas communicate with this column... Know a few H. S. students who would be interested! Drive carefully over the week end — and I'll see yuh again... HH

SELL MAGAZINES AT YORK SPRINGS

York Springs High School students are well along the way to their goal of $1,600 in magazine sales.

Judy Cassel and Jean Bible, general managers of the two teams into which the students have been divided for the campaign, said today that sales totaling $687.90 have been made since the drive began last Thursday. The magazine subscription canvass will continue through September 24.

Funds raised through the sale will go into the student activities fund. One of the activities to be assisted by the fund will be baseball, which school officials point out needs support beyond the sale of tickets for the games.

Prizes Offered

For the drive, the students in Grades Seven through Twelve have been divided into two "companies." Judy Cassel is general manager for the "Curtis Co." with Gerry Miller as assistant general manager. Room captains include Arla Lehman, Darlene Darr, Betsy Cassel, Janet Guider, Lucille Bubb, Patsy Decker and Miriam Leier.

Jean Bible heads the "Crowell Co." with Nancy Smith as assistant manager. Room captains include Ann Smith, Ruth Ann Trostle, Faye Weigle, Dorothy Riley, Nadine Hoak, Doris Yohn and Beverly Lavanture. Big prize for the youngsters will be a radio, to go to one of the salesmen. Each time one of the students sells $5 worth of subscriptions his name is placed in a box. At the end of the campaign, one of the names will be drawn and that salesman will receive the radio. The more subscriptions sold, the more chances a student will have towards winning the radio, the campaign officials said.

News From York Springs, Dillsburg

Mrs. Mary Deatrick Rea, Scranton, has been visiting in East Berlin and Biglerville. Mrs. Rea is the last surviving of the 12 children of the late Augustus and Mary Hollinger Deatrick, lifelong residents of the Heidersburg area.

In the Saanen goat exhibit at the York Fair, awards went to Chester G. Wolf, Dillsburg, for Doe, three years and over; doe, two years and under three; doe, one year and under two; doe five months old and under one; and doe under five months.

A group of persons from the Wells-ville area were recently present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lehman, Kreutz Creek, for a reunion of the Billet family.

Among those drawn for service on the next session of the York County grand jury are: John M. Sadler, Jacob Nester and Curvin E. Kinter, Dillsburg; and Nellie G. Gerber, Franklin Twp.

Many persons from the Dillsburg and Wells-ville areas were present at the recent fifth annual reunion of the Peter Cook family at Mechanicsburg Memorial Park.

Improvement is reported in the condition of Vaughn Leidigh, Camp Hill, formerly of the Mt. Holly Springs section, who was treated at a Harrisburg hospital after being shot in the chest last week by a soldier who invaded the Harrisburg food market where Mr. Leidigh works.

William Bell, Dillsburg, won an award at the York Fair last week in the goat exhibit for a registered purebred Nubian doe, one year old.

The Highway Safety Service recently suspended the driver's license of Clyde W. Garner and Lester Eugene Grove, Dillsburg, "suspended defense submitted," and restored the licenses of John E. McGurdy, Dillsburg R. 1, and Eugene Dana Schmuck, Dillsburg R. 2.

James Henry Wallace, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wallace, Wells-ville R. 1, has enlisted in the Navy as a seaman recruit, for four years. He expects to leave shortly for basic training at the Naval Center, Bainbridge, Md.

TOWN MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT AT DILLSBURG

Walter P. Kress, Harrisburg, a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, will be the speaker at a "town meeting" to be held in Dillsburg Friday night under the sponsorship of the Dillsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be the first of several similar gatherings planned before a general election in November to get out the vote.

The Jaycees recently concluded a successful drive on registrations, and point to approximately 70 new voters registered up to last Saturday, the final day of registration, as largely the result of their efforts.

Parade Before Meeting

With registration over, Jaycees members are working toward a large vote on election day, and the meeting Friday night will be the first with this object in mind.

The "town meeting" will be held in the community building, following a parade through the principal streets of the town, headed by the Dillsburg band. The Dillsburg churches, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other organizations will participate.

The parade is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock at the Dillsburg branch of the Fairfield Shoe Co. and disband at the community hall on Main St.

The second of the "town meetings" will be held in the community hall October 10 and the third on October 24. Prominent out of town speakers will be obtained for these meetings.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is a relatively new organization in Dillsburg. It received its charter last June. It has 26 members, and has been active in a number of civic matters in the few months since its organization.

Officers are: John Hoffman, president; William Cromer, vice president; Richard Knaub, secretary, and James Drake, treasurer. The group meets the second Monday night of each month at Nell's Restaurant.

Boxer Chuck Spieser, Michigan State's light-heavyweight Olympic representative, lost only one bout during his collegiate career.

START TO USE NEW $1,225,000 SCHOOL BUILDING NEAR DILLSBURG

Dillsburg's new $1,225,000 school and its surrounding grounds and athletic field are nearing completion, and by January, it is estimated, the 600 or more pupils of the four townships and the three boroughs of the Northern Joint School District will be using the facilities of this modern structure, located a short distance outside of town.

Making up the district at the present time are the townships of Monaghan, Carroll, Franklin and Warrington, and the boroughs of Dillsburg, Franklinton and Wells-ville.

The school grounds include approximately 90 acres. A brick school building with class rooms, laboratories, gymnasium and other facilities for both high school and grade pupils is being completed on a part of this acreage.

One Of Finest In State

Adjacent to the school building itself an athletic field, which includes a baseball diamond, a football field, running track and other features, has been laid out and work is progressing toward its completion.

When the school and its adjuncts are completed, Dillsburg and vicinity will have one of the finest school plants in Pennsylvania.

The work is already far enough along so that grade school pupils

EISENHOWER TO TALK TODAY TO AFL CONVENTION

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower goes before the American Federation of Labor Convention today with a speech that may determine how much labor union support he can count on in the presidential election.

Interrupting his 12-state Midwest and Southern whistle-stop tour, the general flew back to New York from Minneapolis yesterday for the speech. He received a big reception in Minneapolis and St. Paul before taking off.

Eisenhower told a crowd of 12,000 in St. Paul he was convinced the people want a change in administration in Washington. He said he had found administration "fumbling" on foreign affairs the chief concern of the people he met at whistle stops.

To Endorse Someone

Eisenhower was accompanied on the flight to New York by Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, his top adviser, and Arthur Summerfield, GOP national chairman, in a party of 44 staff members and newsmen.

William Green, AFL president, has said the AFL Convention will endorse a presidential candidate at its meeting here after hearing Eisenhower today and Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, his Democratic rival, next Monday.

Green said the 752 convention delegates would decide largely on the views of the candidates and their party platforms on the Taft-Hartley Act.

He implied that he expected the convention to endorse Stevenson. The rival CIO already has endorsed Stevenson.

However, Eisenhower has assurance of some AFL support.

Richard J. Gray of Albany, long-time Democrat and president of the three-million-member AFL Building Trades and Construction Department, said Aug. 27 he was backing Eisenhower. He said he knew of eight or 10 other AFL leaders who also would support the Republican.

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—Italian Premier-Foreign Minister Alcide de Gasperi called Tuesday for speedy extension of Western Europe's plans for military unity to the economic and monetary fields.

"We cannot assure solidarity in our military efforts, in time of peace or war, if we do not realize a minimum of solidarity in the sectors of labor and economics," he told the European Consultative Assembly, the legislative branch of the 14-nation Council of Europe.

News Items For Upper End

REPLACEMENTS KEEP ORCHARDS IN PRODUCTION

Adams County's orchards continue young though individual trees grow old and must be replaced.

A typical example can be seen along the Gettysburg-Arendtsville Road at the Blue Ribbon orchard of the C. H. Musselman Co., where removal of a block of Montmorency cherry trees has been made adjoining the road.

Glenn Slaybaugh, farm supervisor for the Biglerville farm, explains that "planting and systematic replanting are the life of an orchard whether apple, peach or cherry."

"The trees removed this past summer are a visible example of the process that is being carried out in most orchards throughout the county. Years before the old trees are pulled out young trees are planted. Just as young people and old people keep the human race going, so a well cared for orchard continues always in full vigor. The old trees die off or are taken out and the younger trees move into full bearing age.

York Imperials Lead

"While the trees in the particular section were Montmorency sour cherries, originally introduced into this area by C. H. Musselman, the same process is true in other orchards. The Montmorency, incidentally, has become an important local crop in the years since they were first introduced. The particular ones bearing now are the second or third generation of Montmorency cherries in this section."

"Incidentally, you can see the future through the trees being planted in an orchard as replacement for the old trees when they die out. In apple orchards nowadays most of the replacements are York Imperials, probably the most profitable apple crop today because it is the best processing apple."

Takes A Generation

"While fruit growers are very well aware of the fact, the average person may not know that a York Imperial in a good average soil with proper tillage and spray protection should be in its bearing prime from its 15th to perhaps its 35th year and in some cases longer. Thus a good tree will bear fruit profitably for a generation—but it takes almost a human generation to bring an orchard into production.

"That is the reason for the constant replacement in orchards, so that when the older trees die off there will be young trees beginning to bear — production will remain constant, but the individual trees will be born, grow to maturity and die to be replaced by others."

"Thus the best managed orchards in the county could be made perpetual and the fruit industry remains strong despite the aging and replacement of both men and trees."

birds that will do a better job more easily and do it in less time.

Fertilize Hay Field—Your hay field will produce more forage next year and the following years if it gets an application of fertilizer this fall. Penn State extension agronomists say that 400 pounds of 0-20-20 per acre is good for red clover, alfalfa, and Ladino clover, and mixtures of these legumes and grass.

Clean Air Cleaner—Working in dusty fields is hard on the tractor.

Burton S. Horne, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, says that cleaning the air cleaner will aid efficient operation.

Farm Calendar

Feed Good Hay—Be sure to save some of the highest quality legume hay for the poultry. Penn State extension poultry specialists say that such hay can take the place of some expensive grain. Before feeding the hay cut it into one to four-inch lengths with an ensilage or straw cutter. Then it can be fed on the floor or in racks.

Handle Carefully—Since ripe tomatoes are a highly perishable product, Robert F. Fletcher, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, reminds growers that they can increase their income from the crop by handling the tomatoes carefully. The baskets must be loaded right on the truck to avoid damage.

Bale Grass Silage—Where a field chopper is not available for handling grass and legume silage, a pickup baler may be used without twine, says Burton Horne, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. The untied bales, "plugs," are easier to handle than tangled forage.

Grow Good Calves—When calves develop crooked or arched backs, they are not getting the right food. Joe E. Taylor, Penn State extension dairy specialist, reminds that a fast-growing calf needs plenty of food containing essential vitamins and minerals.

Farmers Get Help—Custom operators perform an important service for Pennsylvania agriculture, says J. K. Pasto, Penn State farm management specialist. They enable many farmers to gain the benefits of modern machine operations without buying costly equipment.

Save Poultry Labor—Labor is one of the major costs in producing eggs. Carl O. Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist, urges use of methods in caring for the laying

Saves More Corn

Low-sloping gathering snouts follow the ground, nose under leaning stalks and scoop up low-hanging ears. That's the Allis-Chalmers way to crib more corn.

You'll like the simplicity of the Allis-Chalmers One-Row Corn Harvester. It's engineered down-to-earth, with fewer working parts to wear, and lower upkeep all the way.

Rubber husking rolls and spring-steel pegs handle ears gently — leave the kernels on the cobs. All operating parts are enclosed or shielded for safety.

Here's a picker priced for home ownership. When your crop reaches the just-right stage for picking, save more corn by being ready to go with your own Allis-Chalmers Corn Harvester.

A Message From The President

THROUGHOUT the land, September once again is the month of return to school for millions — from first graders through candidates for the doctor's degree. In this month more than in any other, except perhaps June, education is widely recognized as one of our major national concerns. During the other months, most of us seem to take the business of education for granted and to turn our probing interests to other topics and problems.

This circumstance is an unhappy one since the education of United States citizens is probably the most important year-round responsibility of all United States citizens. Everything that the United States, perhaps the world, will be tomorrow is being shaped today in our homes and churches and schools from Maine to California. It therefore behooves us constantly to display an active interest in the education of our youth.

This, of course, means also that we must consider the type of education which we wish actively to encourage. Here there will be much difference of opinion. But to me, as one who has spent more than a quarter-century in higher education and the study of history, there is only one good type. And that is the education which develops the whole personality of the individual in its physical, intellectual, social and religious qualities.

Presumably there would not be too much disagreement in respect of development through education of the physical, intellectual and social qualities. But the more will be the differences, across the land, in the matter of religious training — even though the religious understanding alone can give full meaning to the others. No less practical and hard-headed a man than the Duke of Wellington once said: "Educate men without religion, and you make them but clever devils." Surely we have had and do have abundant proof of the correctness of this assertion in many parts of the world today.

Let us, therefore, as patriotic citizens of the United States, concentrate throughout the year on seeking to provide for our youth an education in which the love of God gives unity and meaning to all that they learn.

New Prexy Has Distinguished Record As Administrator, Educator, Author, Scholar

The re-opening of Gettysburg College for a new fall semester will witness also the inauguration of its eighth president. On September 25 Dr. Walter Consuelo Langsam will be formally inducted in this office at appropriate ceremonies marking the first change in the college's leadership in more than a quarter century.

Dr. Langsam, who succeeded Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson as president of Gettysburg College upon the latter's retirement last June, came here from the presidency of Wagner College, a Lutheran institution on Staten Island, N. Y., where he had been "prexy" since November, 1945.

Dr. Langsam did his undergraduate work at the College of the City of New York, where he received his B.S. degree in 1925. He won numerous prizes and was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, collegiate honorary society. He earned degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. at Columbia University and was awarded an honorary degree of LL.D. in 1950 by Gettysburg College.

Served With OSS
From 1927 until 1938 Dr. Langsam taught history at Columbia University, where he was several times voted the "most popular professor." He was again called as visiting professor of history at Columbia in 1942 and during several summers was visiting professor at Duke University, Ohio State University, New York University, the University of British Columbia and the University of Colorado.

From 1938 to 1944 he was professor of history at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., having been by several years the youngest full professor on that faculty. From May, 1944, to October, 1945, he was with the Office of Strategic Services in Washington, D. C., also completing an overseas mission during this period for which he received a special commendation from Maj. Gen. William (Wild Bill) Donovan.

Author And Commentator
Dr. Langsam is the author of several books, some of which are widely used as college texts. Among his books are: "The Napoleonic Wars and German Nationalism in Austria," which was published in 1930; "The World Since 1914," which has gone through six editions and a score of reprintings; "Major European and Asiatic Developments Since 1935," which appeared in 1939; "In Quest of Empire: The Problem of Colonies," and "Documents and Readings in the History of Europe Since 1918," both of which were published in 1939, the latter in a new edition in 1951; "Since 1939: A Narrative of War," published in 1941, and "Francis the Good: The Education of an Emperor 1763-1792," published in 1949.

He has written a number of articles for professional journals and for several years contributed regularly to "World Week," a scholastic publication. From 1941 to 1943 he was a radio news commentator for General Electric station WGY at Schenectady.

Dr. Langsam is a member of the American Historical Association, the Council on Foreign Relations, and the Foreign Policy Association; also of the Society of American Historians, the American Association of University Professors and Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Wagner Rolls Tripled
He is a fellow of the American Geographical Society, fellow of the Staten Island Institute of Arts and Sciences, honorary member of the Burke Society and a member of the Rotary Club.

Dr. Langsam's seven years at Wagner College were highlighted by many developments at this institution of learning. The total enrollment on December 1, 1945, was 397. Six years later it was 1,358. More than half of the Wagner alumni received their diplomas at Dr. Langsam's hands.

The faculty and administrative staff was increased in this period from 20 to 60, with an additional 32 lectures in the evening sessions. The maintenance employees were increased from three to 18.

Distinguished Record
The total assets of the college on June 1, 1945, were $1,500,000. Today they are $3,500,000. The average base salary of the faculty was raised 75 per cent and a debt of $177,000 was paid off between 1945 and 1947. A pension system was introduced which was later supplemented by participation in the Social Security System.

There has been an increase in the amount of scholarship help to students from $5,200 in 1945 to $48,000 in 1951, and the total income of the college has been raised from $196,800 in 1945 to $823,800 in 1952. The endowment fund has increased from $340,730 to $454,552. A financial campaign for new buildings in 1950-51 brought in $100,000 from Staten Is-

Full-Fledged Music Department At College Inaugurates Its Second Year

Major In Music Available; Brua Chapel Is Enlarged; Parker B. Wagnild, Director

A year ago, for the first time in its 119 years as an educational institution, first as Pennsylvania College and later as Gettysburg College, a full-fledged department of music was established, offering the students a major in music at this seat of learning. In the preceding years, several courses in music had been offered, but music as a separate department did not come into being until the completion of renovations to the former Brua Chapel.

The move was well and wisely taken. The demand for greater facilities for the study of music in its many forms had been apparent and increasing for several years. Since the inception of the new department, the demand for a musical education by many students has become more apparent. This fall the department has been expanded and many more students are seeking music as their major course of study.

Brua Chapel Enlarged
The renovations at Brua Chapel and additions to the building to provide a suitable "home" for the infant department were many and extensive. A gift of $50,000 was received from the General Woman's League of Gettysburg College and the first floor was completely remodeled and a two-story wing added on the southern side.

Two factors were kept in mind in planning the building, first, that it be practical and that it meet the needs for the study of music; second, that it be in keeping with the beauty of the art it was designed to foster.

Beauty and utility are combined in the present building. The lounge room is equipped with a grand piano, leather upholstered furniture, a fireplace, indirect lighting, floor lamps and provides an ideal place for recitals, informal get-togethers and a general social room.

Nine Private Rooms
Other rooms include a band room, two classrooms, nine private practice rooms equipped with new pianos, two studios, office of the director of the department, Parker B. Wagnild, rest rooms and a kitchenette.

The choral room is located in the second floor of the new wing, above the lounge room. It is acoustically treated for sound, and has semi-circular graduated steps with chairs for rehearsals of the college's various musical organizations. Its seating capacity is 75.

At the front of the room is a grand piano and director's stand and built in cabinets for records, record players and a recording system. The Woman's League gave $4,000 to purchase records for the music department.

Regular Music Course
Major and minor courses in music are offered for the first time. Regular Astin.

courses in music theory, literature and applied work are given, including basic harmony, advanced harmony, keyboard harmony, dictation, musical form and analysis, history of music, choral and instrumental conducting, and music appreciation of the symphony and the opera.

Applied music courses include instruction in voice, piano, pipe organ and violin.

In addition to Mr. Wagnild, head of the music department, the faculty includes Dr. W. Frederick Shaffer, Prof. R. Henry Ackley, Paul A. Harner, J. Herbert Springer, Melba Bartholomew, Toini Koski Heikkinen and Virginia Barriga.

Prof. Wagnild graduated at St. Olaf's College, Northfield, Minn., in 1930. He sang with St. Olaf's Choir and toured Europe with the choir in that year. While a student at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, he organized the Gettysburg College Choir and the Seminary Choir in 1935. He has taught music at the college since 1937.

Receives Degree
Prof. Wagnild received his master of sacred music degree at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, in 1934 and his master of arts degree at New York University in 1946.

He is director of the Gettysburg College Choir, which each year presents from 25 to 30 concerts, two on the campus, the first at the Christmas season and the second the annual spring concert.

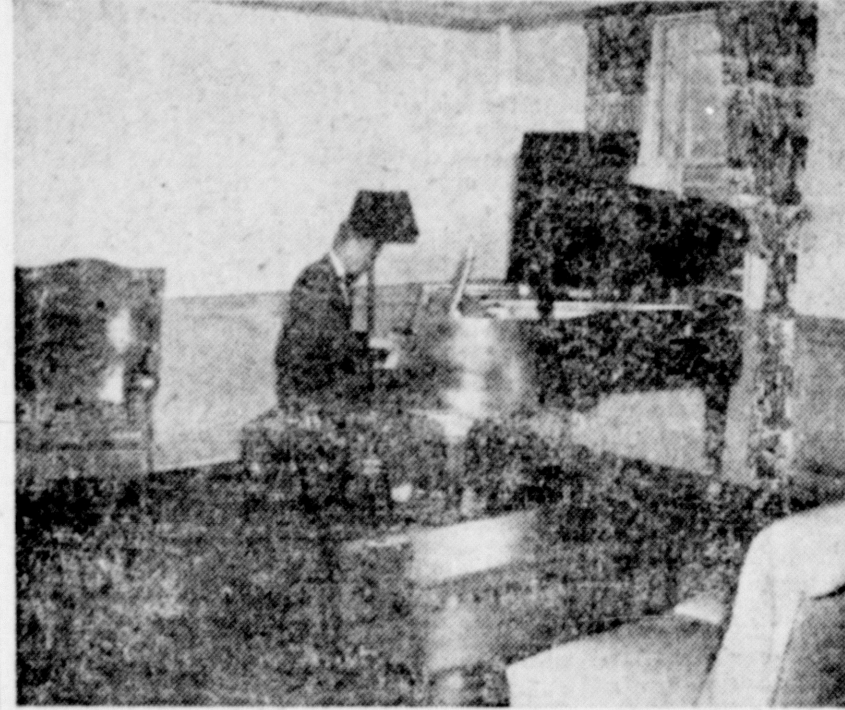

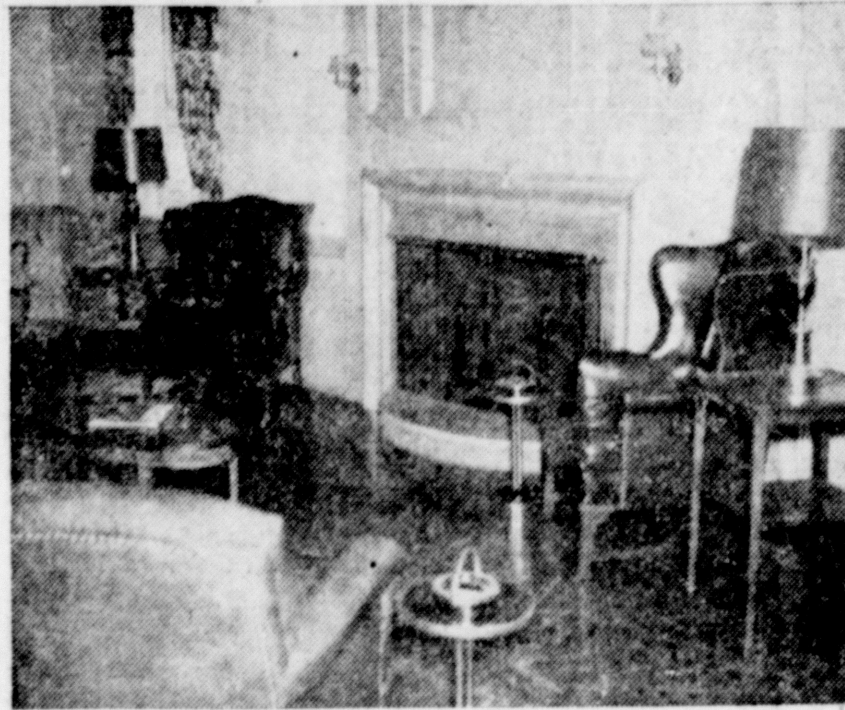

One hundred eighty-five students participate in the various musical organizations at the college. The choir has 53 members. Each spring a ten-day tour is arranged for concerts throughout Pennsylvania and nearby states. Last year the choir was on a southern tour through Maryland, Virginia, Washington, D. C., North and South Carolina and Georgia and gave several concerts in this state.

Receives Award Of Merit
The choir was invited by the University of Pennsylvania to take part in the Cultural Olympics in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, May 9, 1952, where the organization was given an award of merit in recognition of a high standard of accomplishment in music.

The Gettysburg College Band has 55 members, directed by Paul A. Harner. It performs at football games and presents concerts on the campus and in nearby towns.

The Coed-Choralists is a vocal organization of 45 women students, directed last year by Miss Ruth Luebbe, who has since resigned her position at the college. This year the group will be under the direction of R. Henry Ackley.

The Minnesingers is a group of 32 male voices directed by Alexander.

The new music department at Gettysburg College is housed in what is now one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus, the former Brua Chapel. Top photograph shows the director, Parker B. Wagnild, at his desk in his office in the building. The second photograph shows the fireplace and some of the furniture in the comfortable lounge. Third from top is a corner of the lounge room, with Mr. Wagnild at the grand piano. Next below is a view of one of the several practice rooms with its piano and Mr. Wagnild at the keyboard. # Gettysburg College Begins 1952 Football Season With Squad Of 44 Men

Extensive NCAA Survey Shows Most Small Colleges Finance Their Own Athletic Programs

Most of the small colleges in the National Collegiate Athletic Association have integrated departments of physical education, intramural and intercollegiate athletics under the same administrative head and are financed wholly or in major part by the college through athletic fees or departmental budgets.

This is the highlight of an interesting and comprehensive survey conducted by the college committee of the NCAA, chairmaned by C. E. Billheimer, director of athletics at Gettysburg College. The survey was conducted during the past year and preliminary reports were submitted at a meeting of the committee in Cincinnati last January and a report compiled recently of the tabulation of the questionnaires.

C. E. BILLHEIMER

148 Schools Respond

One hundred and forty-eight schools returned the questionnaires which comprised 26 pertinent questions. One hundred and twenty-two schools reported that their athletic programs were operated by the school and financed by the school.

The questionnaires conclusively proved that as a general situation, athletics, intramural and intercollegiate, and physical education are under one authority; college presidential responsibility is definitely evident. Institutional control "is a real thing through institutional payment of coaching salaries and supplementing definite budgets." It is also evident that income from athletics is not a factor in establishing and maintaining a program at these schools.

The questionnaire was drafted by Mr. Billheimer's committee and then sent out to members of the NCAA in eight districts embracing the entire country.

Chairman Billheimer said that the survey was conducted (as a result of adverse newspaper publicity) to prove that most of the schools conduct their athletic programs along educational lines, as part of the total educational philosophy of their institution.

3 SCHEDULES FOR COLLEGE GRIDDETS SET

Nine varsity games and a three-game freshman program have been mapped for the Gettysburg College griddeers this season. Freshman football is the first for a number of years.

The 1953 varsity schedule shows six home games, the most in many years.

1952 Football Schedule

Date	Opponent	Place
Sept. 27	Delaware	Wilmington
Oct. 4	Western Maryland	Gettysburg
Oct. 11	Albright	Gettysburg
Oct. 18	Lehigh	Bethlehem

Dec. 27	Father's Day

1953 Football Schedule

Date	Opponent	Place
Sept. 26	Delaware	Home
Oct. 3	Western Maryland	Home
Oct. 10	Albright	Away
Oct. 17	Lehigh	Home
Oct. 24	Muhlenberg	Away
Oct. 31	Lebanon Valley	Away
Nov. 7	Dickinson	Home
Nov. 14	Bucknell	Home
Nov. 21	F. and M.	Home

Students Pay Fees

A "majority of the schools indicated that they can count on income from fees paid by students. About half of these schools have regular athletic fees, and the others get a definite allocation per student from an overall tuition fee. Only 21 of the schools indicated they receive no definite pro-rated amount per student."

Only 21 of the schools indicated they did not have to show any income on their budgets. The other schools showed income from gate receipts and guarantees, as well as from student athletic fees. More

New 1952 Football Rule Changes Listed

The Football Rules Committee made several major rule changes for 1952 that will be noticed by the collegiate football fan.

The new rules have added that the use of the elbow, forearm, or locked hands against an opponent will be considered unnecessary roughness. Heretofore, the penalty for violation of this rule was the loss of 15 yards and expulsion from the game, at the discretion of the referee. The new penalty is the loss of 15 yards and mandatory expulsion from the game of the guilty player.

The 15 yard penalty for "clipping," the hitting or tackling of an opponent anywhere on the back, has been restored.

The rule forbidding "piling on" has been changed from "after" to "as soon as" the ball becomes dead.

Holding by the defensive team, which had been a 5 yard penalty, has been changed to a 15 yard penalty.

BULLETS HAVE 255 TRIUMPHS IN 500 GAMES

Gettysburg College's football teams have played exactly 500 games since the inception of the gridiron sport in 1890.

During that time the Bullets won 255, lost 212 while 33 ended in ties.

The all-time record follows:

College Wrestlers Face Stiff Program

Eight meets in addition to the annual Middle Atlantic Championships at Lafayette College have been scheduled for Jack Shainlines' Bullet wrestlers for the 1953 campaign. Last year the locals copped the Middle Atlantic.

The schedule: January 10, Haverford, away; 17, Temple, home; February 7, Muhlenberg, away; 14, Johns Hopkins, home; 18, Franklin and Marshall, home; 21, Hofstra, home; 25, Bucknell, away; 28, Lafayette, home, and March 6 and 7, Middle Atlantic at Lafayette.

"I'm Going To Be A Football Fan, But I Won't Criticize" Says Retired Coach Hen Bream

"I'm going to be a football fan this fall for the first time in more than 25 years. I may be the worst fan in the world, and I'll probably be working harder than I ever did during a football season. Yes, and I'll probably do almost as much worrying as did when I was coaching."

That's how Henry T. Bream, associate director of athletics at Gettysburg College and its head coach of football for 25 years, pictures himself as he steps out of the varsity coaching duties for the first time since 1927.

"For the first time in all these years I'm really appreciating the month of September. It's a wonderful month. There's lots of color, a twang in the air and a mighty nice time to loaf a bit," said Bream.

"During the last quarter century September was either rainy or sunny to me. I'd wake up in the morning and look out to see what the weather was like. If it was a nice day I knew we were going to have some stiff football drills. If it was rainy my plans were shot and we immediately were a day behind in our preparations for the first game."

Miss Associations

"Probably the most important factor in this business is that I'll miss the association with those young fellows. You can't do a good coaching job if you aren't interested in your men, if you don't like them, if you aren't concerned about their well being," said the retired mentor. "And not being with them, worrying about injuries, etc., will be kind of difficult."

"I'll be at every game. First because it will be part of my job but more so because I think it is the greatest sport in the world and I never get enough of it. I like to be with those fellows who play the game for all it is worth, giving their all to win. I've had favorites, always. I've had fellows who were always those fellows who were a little more for the team effort."

BULLET COACH WAS FORMERLY STAR WINGMAN

John Yovicsin, one of Gettysburg College's greatest ends, has assumed the head coaching spot left vacant by the resignation of Henry T. Bream, who tutored the gridiron sport here for 26 years.

"Yovy," who was graduated from college in 1940, began his coaching career at Harrisburg Catholic High School. In 1941 he moved on to Valley Forge Military Academy for three years. He migrated to Middletown High School in 1945, and coached its football and basketball teams. While at Middletown, Yovicsin met with considerable success as his football teams, equipped with the T-formation that John had inaugurated, swept through two years of competition with only one setback.

COACH YOVICIN

Upon graduation he played professional basketball with the now defunct Harrisburg Senator cagers and football for several seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles.

His other coaching duties include freshman basketball and track. Married, Yovicsin is the father of a one-year-old son.

Walter McJeffords of Glen Riddle, Pa., was the top money-winning owner of the 33-day Delaware Park race meeting.

Yovicsin Is 18th Gettysburg Coach

Below are listed the Gettysburg College football coaches since the start of the sport in 1890:

- No Coach 1890-91
- Dr. H. D. Jump 1892-96
- David Dale, captain and coach 1897
- Mr. Johnson 1898-99
- "By" Dickson 1900
- L. Smith, 1901-02
- Dr. Oglesby 1903
- Fred Vail 1904-06
- G. Johnson 1907
- Roland E. Brumbaugh 1908
- Fred Vail 1909-11
- Norman Phillip 1912
- Pete Mauthe 1913
- "Shorty" O'Brien 1914-15
- Robert N. Berryman 1916-17
- D. R. Leathers 1918
- Bill Wood 1919-26
- Henry T. Bream 1927-1951
- John Yovicsin 1952-

First All-America Grid Team Named

The original All-America intercollegiate football team was chosen in 1889 by the late Walter Camp.

Those selected to the team were: Ends, A. Alonzo Stagg, Yale, and Arthur Cummock, Harvard; tackles, Hector W. Cowan, Princeton, and Charles O. Gill, Yale; guards, John Crampton, Harvard, and W. W. Heffelfinger, Yale; center, William J. George, Princeton; quarterback, Edgar Allen Poe, Princeton; halfbacks, William G. Lee, Harvard, and Roscoe H. Channing, Princeton, and fullback, Knowlton L. Ames, Princeton.

Eight Engagements For Bullet Booters

An eight-game schedule is listed this fall for the Gettysburg College soccer squad.

The schedule: October 3, Elizabethtown, home; 10, Johns Hopkins, away; 15, Drexel, away; 22, Delaware, home; 31, Bucknell, away; November 7, Franklin and Marshall, home; 14, Western Maryland, away; 19, Temple, home.

Open 9-Game Schedule With Night Game Against Univ. Of Delaware

Gettysburg High School's Football Team Opens 1952 Season With Auspicious Win

Another championship football team may be in the making at Gettysburg High School if the opening game victory may be taken as an indication.

The Warriors toppled Westminster High 25-0 in their initial game last Friday night at Westminster to keep their record clear of defeat since the final game of 1950. Last year the Maroon and White eleven topped eight victories, tied one, and gained their first South Penn conference title in 20 years.

Coaches Howard Shoemaker and Ross Sachs, both former Gettysburg College athletic stars, face a difficult task this season.

10 Players Graduate
Ten key players from 1951 were lost via graduation and but seven lettermen remain. However, a flock of very promising material up from last year's Junior High squad and a number of first line reserves from last season promise to make their task a wee bit lighter.

Although the play of the Warriors was somewhat spotty in the opener, the entire squad indicated that with more experience it should prove a worthy foe for all opponents.

A big, husky line in front of a goodly supply of speedy, tricky runners carries the hopes of the team.

Lettermen on the line this year include Richie Carter, 202, tackle; Jim Skinner, 202, end, a former tackle - end; Gus Dayhoff, 162, guard, and Bill Knox, 157, guard.

In addition to the above the starters on the forward wall in the opener included Dick Ray, 208, tackle, who was unable to play last year due to an injury; Jerry Peters, 157, center, and Stanton Musser, 148, end. All showed great potentialities and should improve steadily.

Good Ball Carriers

The Warriors fine pair of ball carriers Wayne Tonsel, 151, and Bobby Miller, 139, are back again and appear to have lost none of their old-time form. "Skip" Fische, quarterback and passing star, is also a holdover.

Ronnie Williams, sophomore, drew the starting assignment at fullback at Westminster and was a pleasant surprise. He should fit in well at the spot his brother, Bill, occupied last season.

Ronnie Miller, George Penn, Robert Rohrbaugh, "Chick" Livingston and Joe Bushey gives the Warriors a great amount of backfield bench strength.

Billy DeHaas, another promising back, has been side-lined indefinitely by an injury.

Among the more promising line-men certain to see a lot of action throughout the campaign are Jay Schmitt, Randall Hill, John Carter, Roger and Ted Crouse and Jack Knox. In addition there are a group of other candidates who have been improving steadily and may find themselves battling for regular jobs if they continue their fine work.

The Warriors play their first home game of the season Friday night when Delone Catholic High of McSherrystown will be met.

College Dribblers To Play 22 Games

The Gettysburg college basketball team will face a 22-game schedule during the coming season, 11 at home and a similar number on foreign courts.

The schedule:

Dec. 6—Western Maryland	Home
Dec. 10—Elizabethtown	Home
Dec. 12—Mt. St. Mary's	Home
Dec. 17—Albright	Away
Dec. 19—Virginia	Home
Jan. 7—Bucknell	Away
Jan. 10—Johns Hopkins	Away
Jan. 12—Penn State	Away
Jan. 17—Lehigh	Home
Jan. 24—Mt. St. Mary's	Away
Jan. 30—Wagner	Away
Jan. 31—Hofstra	Away
Feb. 4—Lebanon Valley	Home
Feb. 7—Muhlenberg	Away
Feb. 11—P. and M.	Home
Feb. 14—Lehigh	Away
Feb. 18—Dickinson	Away
Feb. 21—Bucknell	Home
Feb. 25—Muhlenberg	Home
Feb. 28—Lafayette	Away
Mar. 4—Dickinson	Home
Mar. 6—P. and M.	Away

Delaware, Bucknell Biggest Obstacles In Bullet Program

If Gettysburg can hurdle Delaware in the season's opener at Wilmington September 27, in a night game, and Bucknell at Lewisburg on November 15, then the Bullets have a good opportunity to make 1952 the first unbeaten gridiron year in the history of the school.

Twenty-nine lettermen were among the 46 candidates to return to the campus September 1 to begin two practice sessions daily. Johnny Yovicin, who has succeeded Hen Bream as head coach, will have a team that won its final five games a year ago. Only 12 gridirers were graduated from that squad, and six of those were regulars.

A year ago when the Bullets were called upon to face the strong Bucknell Bison in the opener at Hershey, Coach Bream had a squad composed mainly of freshmen and sophomores. Many were playing their first collegiate ball game that night against the Herd. After stumbling against Bucknell, Western Maryland and Lehigh, the neophytes found themselves and played big league ball to sport a season's record of six wins and three losses.

The situation is vastly different this year. The yearlings who found themselves a year ago have a year of play under their belts—a year when they gained confidence in winning games. The but-terfingers that robbed them of victory in the Western Maryland and Lehigh games should be no more. This year the Bullets should be ready.

The Ends—Six lettermen who are returning appear to have the offensive and defensive positions within their grasp. Walt Hembarger, junior from West New York, N. J., could become one of the better offensive ends in Bullet history. The six-foot, 185-pounder caught 23 passes for a net gain of 291 yards a year ago. Ken Bowman, a Korean war vet from Palmyra who played several years ago, and junior Ron Jacobi, Haddon Heights, N. J., are being groomed for offensive posts. Bill Vignola, Philadelphia senior; George Pence, junior from Middletown, and Tom Kostelac, Harrisburg sophomore, are good defensive possibilities.

The Tackles—With Bob Hurley and Bob Dellabough graduated and Bob Dickinson out of school because of injuries received in a summer automobile accident, the Bullets will be a bit weaker at the tackle slots unless the lettermen from 1951 receive a lot of help. Bill Forbes, Harrisburg; Jim Rooney, Mahanoy City, and Al Saner, West New York, N. J., all juniors and all in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, are the returning G. men. Others who may see plenty of action are: Ralph DiMichele, 205-pounder from West New York, N. J.; Hart Beaver, 210-pound sophomore of Lebanon; Robert Finigan, Peekskill, N. Y., sophomore, at 200 pounds, and Jay Williams, junior from Harrisburg who weighs 195.

The Guards—Probably no position is better manned. All-State Bill Ewing, Ocean City, N. J., senior, heads a group of six lettermen. Ray Reider, Middletown senior; Ronnie Miller, 190-pound junior from Harrisburg; Bill Weitzel, 195-pounder from Harrisburg; Carl Beck, Pittsburgh sophomore; and Willis Pratt, place-kicking specialist from Ashland, will battle it out for starting positions. Ron Lantz, West Fairview, who was sidelined with injuries before the initial game a year ago, could rate regular duty.

The Centers—Three veteran lettermen who have handled the center post for the past two years will ease Yovicin's duties. Phil Dolson, 5-10, 180-pounder, and Glen Solomon, six foot, 180-pounder, both of whom played for Yovicin at Middletown, and Bud Pettit, 175-pound line backer from Upper Darby, should give any opponent a busy afternoon.

The Backs—Eugene "Berky" Ward, the lad who completed 14 consecutive passes in the Bullets' 40-20 victory over Franklin and Marshall on Thanksgiving Day a year ago, will return to operate the T. Ward, who found 65 receivers in 124 attempts for 905 yards and eight touchdowns, is a rugged 150-pound youngster who came along fast under Coach Hen Bream's handling. In addition to passing, he can run, punt and place-kick if necessary.

Joe Ujohal, Phoenixville; Bob Eppelman, Gloucester City, N. J.; Tony Natale, Harrisburg, and Bill Yocum, New Cumberland, are the best returning offensive backs according to the 1951 records. Vince Rossetti, Baltimore, is a question mark since a leg injury has not responded to treatment. On the defense, Gettysburg will have its de luxe safety man, Earl Yost of Williamsport. Yost, a 155-pound sophomore, saved many touchdowns with sure tackling and timely pass interceptions. Jim Megee, Landsdowne sophomore, is another defensive stalwart. Don Holland, who was benched with a leg injury most of last season, could develop into one of the better running backs. Jim Hammond, Bradford, will probably under-study Ward in the quarterback slot. Bob Hottle, who averaged 25.6 yards in 41 kicks, will probably do the punting again this year.

There is no accounting for horses' names. A horse in Aus-was called Neustrathemipponskeliterizo.

Maryland Selected As Best Of College Football Powers

By FRANK ECK

NEW YORK (P)—One thing seems certain about the 1952 football season. Almost everyone with a flair for looking ahead to the other fellow's goal posts sees Maryland as the nation's No. 1 eleven—or is it 22 with two-platoon teams?

Tennessee was rated No. 1 last December but this time a year ago this agent gave you Maryland and Tennessee. That's about how it was on New Year's Day when Maryland's Terps shellacked the Tennessee Volunteers, 28-13, in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl.

It was this bowl game that now makes Coach Jim Tatum's Marylanders sort of social outcasts in the Southern Conference, along with Clemson. Both schools accepted bowl bids before going through the red tape of getting official sanction.

Clemson beat Miami of Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, 14-0. As a result, Maryland's home game with Clemson on Oct. 4 now holds more than passing interest. Maryland, which figures to win, should get another bowl bid and what the Southern Conference says this time remains to be seen.

Mid-West Strongest

The Mid-West figures to be the strongest section of the country football-wise with two non-Big-Ten members as the best clubs—Michigan State and Notre Dame. State becomes a Western Conference football member in 1953. State looks like the country's No. 2 team.

Holy Cross in the East, California in the Far West and Texas Christian in the aerial-minded Southwest figure to gain high ranking from time to time during the next 10 weeks.

Rubber Footballs

There should be better football in general since freshmen will be playing only in the Southern and Southeastern Conferences. Some schools will use rubber footballs and in some cases losing coach will insist they have less bounce to the ounce. A player now can be ejected from the game for using his "fist, forearm, elbow or locked hands." Defensive holding will cost 15 yards instead of 5.

Here's a section - by - section run-down of what to expect:

Mid-West

Illinois figures to retain its Western Conference crown but the Illini is ineligible for a return to the Rose Bowl where it crushed Stanford, 40-7. Coach Ray Eliot has 22 lettermen, including a fine secondary in defensive backs Capt. Al Brosky, Herb Neathery and Stan Wallace. T quarterback Tommy O'Connell and Fullback Bill Tate form a strong offense.

Wisconsin has one of the nation's top fullbacks in Alan Ameche who as a freshman last fall set a Big Ten rushing record. He went 774 yards in seven games. Stu Holcomb's Purdue Bolimakers, with 27 lettermen, will make trouble but there's that schedule again—Notre Dame, Illinois and Michigan State on successive Saturdays beginning Oct. 18.

Michigan will be as rough as usual despite its Sept. 27 Ann Arbor opener against Michigan State. Bennie Oosterbaan has 28 M winners. Northwestern's attack might be speeded up by NCAA sprint champion Jim Golliday who has burned to the autumn sport.

Minnesota has 27 lettermen and a great halfback, Paul Giel. As a soph last year he went 1,079 yards for a new Big Ten record. Indiana has little depth and new coach Bernie Crimmins, Iowa has a new mentor in Forest Evashevski.

Cardinal farmhand Bobby Slaybaugh, 20-year-old left-hander who lost the sight of his left eye in spring training, was unable to participate in high school athletics because of a severe case of rheumatic fever which left him with a heart ailment.

Gene Woodling of the Yankees led four different minor leagues in batting.

On the last western trip the Philadelphia Athletics, Mr. and Mrs. Connie Mack followed the team by automobile.

Michigan State might go unbeaten since Biggie Munn's boys have an ideal schedule with only Penn State, Purdue and Notre Dame as the tarts. State, too, has a 15-game winning streak to protect.

Some experts are withholding comment on Notre Dame until the Irish get by Pennsylvania on Sept. 27. George Munger has yet to beat Frank Leahy in two meetings and there's little reason to believe the script will change. Leahy has 31 lettermen. Charlie Callahan, Irish publicist, blames the high number on two-platooning. That means a team and a half back at South Bend, Ind. Notre Dame has had one or more All-American players in each of the last six seasons. This time it could be Halfback John Lattner or Fullback Neil Worden, a pair of juniors.

East

Holy Cross seems the class here. The Crusaders should come up unbeaten for their annual clash with Boston College on Nov. 29. Coach Eddie Anderson has a top drawer passer in Charlie Maloy. Boston U. has a versatile man in Harry Agganis, back from the Marines. Mike Holovak at Boston College likes his defensive line of 200-pound behemoths.

Penn will be stronger and Princeton will be weaker, the latter due to Dick Kazmaier's graduation. Penn's backfield features Joe Varatis, a husky fullback, and Halfback Bill Deuber. Penn, however, may not go anywhere nationally.

Princeton figures to run its winning streak to 24 but then comes Penn on Oct. 11 in Philadelphia.

Dark horse teams are Army, Syracuse and Villanova, the latter because it has 23 lettermen and Gene Filipki, a terrific back who was expelled from Army in the cribbing scandal of a year ago. Filipki was a 1950 West Point star. Syracuse has 28 lettermen. Army has 22 veterans but some were forced upon Coach Earl Blaik following the scandal which wrecked his squad.

Army's big gun will be Frederic Meyers, a 180-pound six-footer, plus five Cadets who played football at other colleges.

Penn State, with 20 lettermen, may be tough of sophomores produce for Coach Rip Engle.

Among the new coaches are Jordan Oliver at Yale and Lowell (Red) Dawson at Pitt.

South

Maryland faces a rough schedule but even Coach Tatum says his team will be as good or better than his great club of 1951. Among his standouts are Jack Scarbath, brilliant split-T quarterback. End John Alderton and Tackle Dick (Little Mo) Modzelowski. The Terps figure to run their 12-game winning streak to 21 before bowl time.

Virginia and Clemson, though not in the title race, will be strong, but Duke, with five Conference foes, figures to take the Southern crown, officially that is. Probably the Blue Devils' toughest games will come from Wake Forest and North Carolina. These foes are met last, Clemson has one of the best backs in the south in triple threat Billy Hair. Virginia Tech has sophomores and West Virginia 23 vets.

New coaches are Jackie Freeman at William and Mary, Carl Wise at Washington and Lee, Horace Hendrickson at North Carolina State, Bill Dole at Davidson and Eugene Sherman at George Washington.

Southeast

Bobby Dodd's Georgia Tech squad figures to win the bunting with such standouts as Halfback Leon Hargreaves, Linebacker George Morris and Tackle Hal Miller, a 230-pounder who stands 6-4. Tech has 11 games and some are tough nuts like SMU, Duke and Alabama.

A better line on Tennessee can be had on Oct. 4 when Gen. Bob Neyland's Vols visit Durham, N. C., for a date with Duke. Much depends on a young tailback named Pat Shires.

Mississippi could be the surprise of the southeast. Johnny Vaughn's split-T team features Jimmy Lear, a signal caller who can run and pass. Alabama should be stronger with Bobby Marlow leading the attack for Harold (Red) Drew's charges.

New coaches in the area are Raymond (Bear) Wolf at Tulane, and Army's former line coach, Murray Warmath, who is at Mississippi State.

Southwest

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs figure to retain the Southwest Conference crown to become the third team to perform the trick in 38 years. Coach Dutch Meyer has 28 veterans and a sophomore Meyer says is the fastest back he's seen in 19 years. He's Ronald Clinkscales who dashes 100 yards in 9.6. Meyer also has Ray McKown, Gil Bartosh and Malvin Fowler who has shifted to fullback.

Texas will be the team to beat as TCU well knows. The Longhorns pinned it on the Horned Frogs, 32-21, last November. TCU, however, won the crown.

Texas, with 20 veterans, features Tom Stohlanske and Gib Dawson. Rice's Owls' rate high with a fine passer in Dan Drake and a steady fullback in Kosse Johnson among 21 letter winners.

Southern Methodist has fine looking sophomores among 26 lettermen. One is Frank Eidom whom Coach Rusty Russell says is "a combination of Kyle Rote and Doak Walker." Seems incredible. Rusty will learn. He's been coaching only two years.

Arkansas, with 25 lettermen, has Lamar McHan, now a junior. Baylor, 15 lettermen, has a fine guard in Bill Atthey.

Missouri Valley

Oklahoma again ranks on top in the Big Seven Conference as Coach Bud Wilkinson seeks his fifth straight crown. Thirty lettermen are back, including Billy Vessels and Merrill Green, two great backs who were injured last year. Also around are Center Tom Catlin, Guard Roger Nelson and Tackle Ed Rowland. Then there's Buddy Leake, a freshman who got 13 touchdowns to tie for the Conference scoring title; Buck McPhail, a halfback who averages 8.53 yards per carry; Quarterback Eddie Crowder and Safety Larry Grigg.

Kansas is the team to beat as Coach Jules Sikes has an intact backfield of Bud Laughlin, Charlie Hoag of the NCAA basketball champs, Bob Bradeberry and Jerry Robertson. Laughlin tied Leake for the scoring title. Also seeking All-American honors is Tackle Oliver Spencer. A very big addition to the Jayhawks' is Gil Reich, a back who transferred from West Point where he performed some grid tricks in 1950. He's a quarterback.

Coach Dallas Ward's Colorado Buffaloes, beaten league-wise only by Oklahoma, will be stronger. Only trouble here is the schedule. The Buffs play Oklahoma on Sept. 27 and Kansas the following Saturday. After those games the remaining seven will look like tea parties.

Nebraska, Kansas State, Iowa State and Missouri have their standouts. Bobby Reynolds, 1950 All-America at Nebraska, is expected to forget about his 1951 injuries. As a soph, Veryl (Joe) juries. As a soph, Veryl (Joe) and team All-America defensive back, Don Faurat at Missouri has Bill Roweckamp, ex-Army end, at fullback, and a good passer in Tony Scardino. Iowa State has the Conference's passing leader in Billy Mann.

Tulsa Favored

In the Missouri Valley Conference race, Tulsa should make it three straight. Only five schools will play in the circuit this fall. Drake U. dropped out after its Johnny Bright was injured in the Oklahoma Aggie game and Bradley U. pulled out in sympathy.

Tulsa should keep Coach Buddy Brothers happy with 27 lettermen. Among those back are 16 of the 22 platoons who lost only two of 11 starts last fall. Big men are Fullback Howard Waugh and Quarterback Ron Morris. Also on hand is All-American Guard Marv Matuszak. Newcomers include four transfers from unbeaten San Francisco, which quit football, and Bob Hass, West Point's 1950 center.

This section appears to be a haven for transfer students. The Oklahoma Aggies have come up with Elmer Stout, former Army center who will play fullback and lineback on defense. The Aggies also have John Weigel, former Georgia Tech end.

Houston has 18 lettermen plus

J. D. Kimmel, ex-Army tackle Detroit has Ted Marchbroda, a T passer who has switched from St. Bonaventure. Wichita has 21 veterans and the Wheatshockers might pull a few surprises.

Rocky Mountain

The Skyline Conference race is wide open with Wyoming, Utah, Denver and Colorado A&M fighting for the crown. Utah, surprise winner last fall, has 22 lettermen but only two were offensive starters.

Wyoming has a fine one-two running punch in Harry Geldien and Chuck Spaulding but only five other veterans. Denver might be stronger with plunging John Callard the spearhead. The Aggies' sophomores now are juniors and Brigham Young is stronger. Dud DeGroot at New Mexico might have a winner for a change. Utah State should be better with 27 veterans. Montana, winner only once a year ago, has a new coach in Eddie Chinke.

Pacific Coast

Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf's California Bears hold the edge in the Conference with Southern California, UCLA and Washington the contenders. Stanford is accorded little chance to regain the title. California has a 200-pound line. In Johnny Olszewski, a 195-pounder, Cal has one of the country's better fullbacks.

Coach Jess Hill has 28 lettermen for his second season at Southern Cal. Charlie Ane, 247-pounder from Hawaii, has shifted from tackle to signal calling and blocking back.

UCLA has some standout performers among 23 lettermen. Coach Red Sanders has Paul Cameron, passer and runner who led the coast with 1,482 yards as a soph, and Don Moomaw, a linebacker of note. One of their ends is 6-6 Ernie Stockert. Alton Kircher (Michigan State '31) succeeds Forest Evashevski, now Iowa, at Washington State, and Kircher inherits a fine team built around passer Bob Burkhardt and receiver Ed Barker. They set two national records. State is three deep, has an all-veteran line and 36 players back. About the only thing Stanford can look forward to is Bob Mathias' second year of football. The two-time Olympic decathlon winner may be the spark the Indians need. Chuck Taylor has lost 24 men from his Rose Bowl squad.

Coach Howie Odell is short handed at Washington but passer Don Heinrich, 1950 All-America, is back. He was out last year with a shoulder separation. Oregon has a good quarterback in passer Hal Dunham but Coach Len Casanova has only four linemen back. All Oregon State has is a veteran line. Idaho has 28 sophs but lacks weight.

It should be an interesting season. It always is.

Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary Opens 127th Year

Dr. Harry F. Baughman

President Baughman's Message

WITH a distinguished history of more than a century and a quarter of service Gettysburg Seminary re-opens its doors and extends its greetings to students and to the community. Through the tremendous changes wrought especially by three great wars the Seminary has continued in its constructive work for the Kingdom of God. From its halls have gone men of dedication to serve the Church in both humble and conspicuous posts. Its physical properties have increased in number and value until today upon a campus of more than forty acres stand well-equipped and adapted buildings worth more than a million dollars. All of its equipment is accepted as a trust, a means to an end, and that end the training of men of whom it shall be true, "that the man of God may be adequate, equipped for every good work."

New Dormitory At Lutheran Seminary

Beautiful Apartment Building Is Opened At Seminary For Single And Married Students

When students at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary returned for the opening of the fall semester two weeks ago, they found a brand-new dormitory building awaiting their occupancy.

Few locations could be better situated or have a more beautiful outlook. The three-story brick building stands at the intersection of Seminary Ridge and the Fairfield Rd., opposite the home of Dr. Harry F. Baughman, seminary president.

Twenty Apartments

Its windows to the west look toward the South Mountains. Those facing the town look out on the avenue on which front other buildings on the seminary campus, and the replicas of Civil War field pieces which aimed west during the battle in vain efforts to repulse the Confederate hordes.

Extensive landscaping is under way or has been completed on all sides of the building and a parking lot laid out in the rear.

There are 20 housekeeping apartments in the building, one with a child's room; 15 double rooms and one single room for unmarried students.

The housekeeping apartments vary widely in the color scheme, but all have kitchen "cabinets" combining gas stove, sink, utensil cabinet and electric refrigerator. Each has a bathroom with shower, built-in dressers and other furniture, for both living and sleeping, in mapie.

On the ground floor are eight apartments, a furnace room, laundry with launderettes, dryers and storage bins. The second floor has 12 apartments. The rooms for the single men are on the third floor. A central shower room is provided for these students, and there is a large reading room in the third floor.

Radiant Heating

The rooms are all light and airy. Floors are asphalt tile. In the winter they will be heated on the ground floor and top floor by radiant heat and on the second by baseboard heating.

A wide hall extends the length of the building, with staircases, iron rails and panoramic windows at either end.

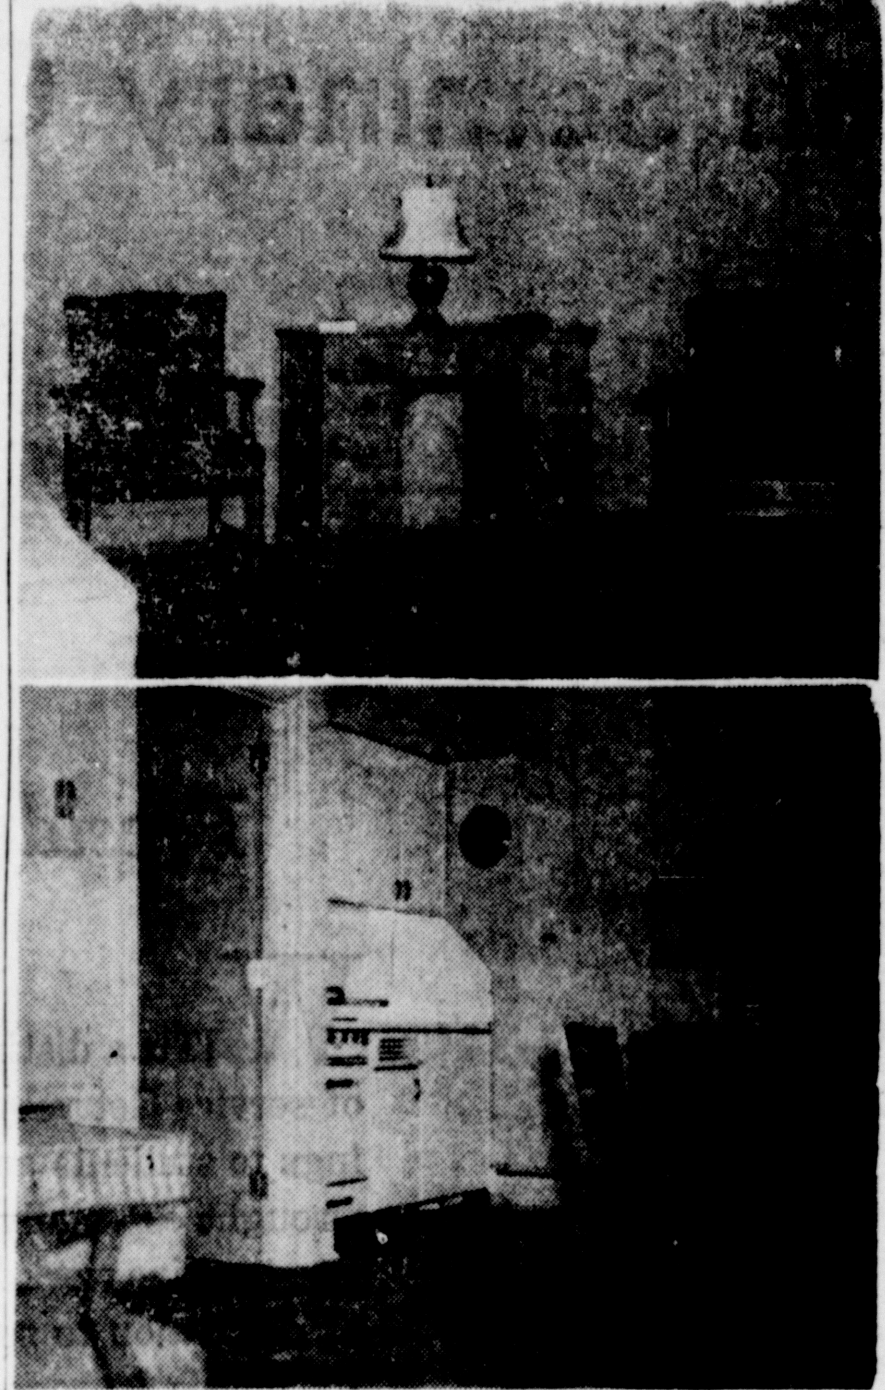

The new dormitory was erected by the O. H. Postetter Co. of Hanover, J. Alfred Hamme, York, was the architect. Ground was broken in June, 1951, and work started shortly thereafter. The building was completed this summer, ready for use when the seminary opened.

Dedicated September 9

It was dedicated on September 9, when it was thrown open for public inspection. A reception was also held on the lawn of the president's home opposite.

The Rev. Dr. Chester S. Simon-ton, president of the Board of Trustees, presided at the dedication. O. H. Hostetter, Mr. Hamme, and the Rev. L. Ralph Tabor, chairman of the building committee, took part in the presentation of the keys to Dr. Simon-ton.

The building was dedicated by Dr. Baughman "to the glory of God and the service of the ministry of the Gospel."

Apartments and rooms in the new dormitory at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary are spacious, yet compact and designed to meet the needs of both single and married students. Shown above are two views of an apartment, the top photograph showing desk and chairs at one end of the combination bedroom, living room and kitchen. Lower photograph shows the built-in bed at left, door to the bath room. In the center background is the "cabinette," which combines sink, stove, storage space and refrigerator, and at right, the dining table.

College Students Acquire "Big Sister" In Mrs. Julia Langsam, Wife Of Eighth President; Graciously Grants Interview

Not long ago the students of Gettysburg College lost a "mother" — gracious Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, wife of Dr. Hanson who retired in June after having been president of the local school for 29 years. During those years, Mrs. Hanson had constantly succeeded in providing a maternal touch to campus activities.

In her place has appeared a "big sister," tall and lovely Mrs. Walter Consuelo Langsam, the Chicago-born wife of Dr. Langsam, recently-appointed president of the college.

The new first lady of the campus came to Gettysburg with her husband and two children July 1 when they moved into the stately home formerly occupied by the late Dr. and Mrs. George D. Stanley, Carlisle St.

Your reporter met Mrs. Langsam for the first time on a sunny afternoon in early September. In the setting of her drawing room, one sensed an atmosphere of culture. Music was opened on a piano in one corner (a son plays) and, of course, there were many books, two rooms completely lined with them. Some of the covers bore the name of Dr. Langsam, himself, who is a well-known author. A curious cocker spaniel glanced in from the hallway at the sound of a strange voice.

Langsams Have Two Sons
The two tall dark-haired sons of the Langsams, Walter Eton and Geoffrey Hardinge, dropped in to chat briefly with their mother. Walter will be a freshman at Haverford College this fall and Geoffrey is a member of the sophomore class at Gettysburg High School.

Mrs. Langsam's fair complexion, blue eyes and pale gold hair give the impression of the north countries "although," she explained, "I am not a Norwegian or Swede as some people believe." As a matter of fact, she is the daughter of Mrs. A. R. Gardner of West Palm Beach, Fla., and New York, a Canadian. Her father was the late Arnett Stubbfield, a Chicago lawyer, who grew up in Kentucky.

Mrs. Julia Langsam is interviewed by Miss Mary Louise Callahan, social editor of The Gettysburg Times, in living room of Langsam residence on campus.

Julia Langsam's father died when she was a young girl and with her mother, sister and brother in Ontario, Canada. "I completed my grade-school education," declared Mrs. Langsam, "in a one-room country school house." She feels that she learned more in that short time than in her early years in Chicago where she grew up close to the hustle and bustle of the sophisticated University of Chicago where her father was an instructor.

Had Varied Career
"I have always been surrounded by an academic atmosphere," the first lady of the campus explained. "It seems as if I always expected to marry a teacher."

Although the poised wife of the president of Gettysburg College has never taught school (there was no time it seems) she had had an unusually varied career to date. Even though her personality shows many facets, the former New Yorker seems to have integrated all her talents into the channel of leadership.

Julia Langsam completed her high school education at Rochester, N. Y., and later received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., where she had moved with her family. At college she majored in English.

To give an insight into the various interests she has had, at one time Mrs. Langsam worked in a Reform School for girls in New York state. A summer officer, she coached baseball, helped the girls to work on farms and planned for their general work and recreation at the school.

Active During War
During World War II, she experimented in psychiatric nursing. She was appointed captain of the first group of nurses' aides in Schenectady, N. Y. Her husband was teaching Modern and Central European History at Union College in that city at that time. She was also secretary of the Civic Music Committee in Schenectady which points to another talent. She is a vocalist (second soprano) and she had been a member of the Oratorio Society on Staten Island while Dr. Langsam was stationed there. She was a member of the Women's Auxiliary of the Staten Island orchestra and of the Civic Music Association of Schenectady during their stay in that city.

For about five years after the completion of her studies at Cornell, Julia Langsam was associated with the American Museum of Natural History New York City, which deals largely with sea life. It was while she was working at the Museum that Miss Stubbfield met Dr. Langsam who was teaching at Columbia University where he had received his Ph.D. She met him through mutual friends at a birthday party. They were married December 10, 1931, in the parish house of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, New York City. Her husband was professor of History at Columbia. Both their sons were born in New York.

Had Brush With Nazis
Dr. and Mrs. Langsam spent the summer of 1934 in Vienna. The professor was engaged in research in the archives for his biography, "Francis the Good." Mrs. Langsam will never forget that summer, especially the day, July 25, when the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Engelbert Dollfuss, was murdered by the Nazis. The little chancellor had run towards the archives adjoining the Chancellery, where the Americans were doing research, to hide when the alarm was given. "We were the last persons to leave the archives that day," declared Mrs. Langsam.

She made a happier visit to Europe last summer when Mrs. Langsam and her son, Walter, made a tour of the continent many years after the Dollfuss tragedy. It was a holiday for both mother and son and "Walter loved it!" she exclaimed.

Is Widely Traveled
Mrs. Langsam has traveled through most of the states, Mexico and British Columbia. One spot she recalls with a sparkle in her blue eyes is the West . . . the mountains . . . the hills of Colorado . . . ranch houses . . .

riding trails . . . horses . . . and square . . . dancing. Dr. Langsam taught summer school at the University of Colorado three years ago and they still remember the square dancing. Dr. Langsam through my boots one evening," the college president's wife laughingly admitted. She was exhilarated by the bracing air, the rugged hills, and romantic riding trails.

Mrs. Langsam enjoys swimming and boating and excelled in ice skating in New York where she was a figure skater. She also mentioned that she had been a member of the field hockey team while a student at Cornell. She also has a flair for journalism, having had a story, "The Good Giant," published in Child Life magazine.

Some of the organizations to which she belongs are the DAR, of which she was first vice regent of the Richmond county chapter, N. Y., and she is also a former senior president of the Children of the American Revolution. She was a member of the Delta Delta Sorority at Cornell. Mrs. Langsam is a member of the P.E.O., national women's society.

Husband With OSS
Dr. and Mrs. Langsam resided in Schenectady for six years where the former was a professor at Union College. During World War II they lived in Washington, D. C., where Dr. Langsam was a member of the OSS. For the past seven years they have been residents of Staten Island where Dr. Langsam was president of Wagner College. Their sons, Walter and Geoffrey, both attended the Staten Island Academy.

Mrs. Langsam, who enjoys flowers and gardening, assisted in landscaping the Wagner College campus and also helped in directing the interior decorating of the buildings.

During their residency in Staten Island, Mrs. Langsam became deeply interested in the United Nations and was named chairman of the United Nations Committee of Staten Island. The group aimed to present a better understanding of the UN to the public.

Assisted At U.N.
"The United Nations," she believes, "is an amplification of what goes on in a community. Each part of a community is reflected in some way in the UN." In connection with her work on the committee, the versatile chair-

Jap Movie Censor Plan Considered

TOKYO (AP) — American movie companies have balked at a plan to set up a board of Japanese and foreign film representatives to censor all foreign motion pictures entering Japan.

Kyodo News Agency says other foreign companies have indicated they will go along and talks will begin soon with British, French, Italian and Russian film companies. Kyodo said there had been protests from parents on the "evil effects" uncensored foreign movies were having on children. It added that uncensored American films will continue to be distributed in Japan.

man gave speeches, wrote articles and helped to organize the work in general. She attended many of the sessions and has met numerous personages of interest who are members of the assembly. She explained that "we must make people realize that we all are part of the United Nations. It is tremendously important that the United States support the UN. Without this support, there will be chaos."

When the Langsams left New York, the women of Staten Island presented her with a silver Paul Revere bowl as a token of appreciation for the work she had accomplished during her seven years of residence there.

Names Husband's Hobby
Mrs. Langsam has a brother, Arthur Stubbfield of Fulton, N. Y., who is plant engineer for the Nestles Chocolate Company, and one sister, Mrs. Augustus Jullien, of New York City.

When asked to name one of her husband's hobbies, she revealed that he likes to read the works of Karl May, the "James Fenimore Cooper" of Austria. The books are written in German.

The Langsams are happy in Gettysburg and have a historic feeling for one of the most visited towns in America. "The people are friendly," declared Julia Langsam, "and I love to drive through the Pennsylvania countryside for I am a country girl at heart." "Julie" Langsam has come a long from Chicago . . . to Canada . . . Austria . . . Colorado . . . New York . . . and now Gettysburg! —MLC

Business Manager Of College Served 36 Months In Army

Richard Carlton Debus, the new business manager at Gettysburg College, is a native of Brooklyn, Kings County, N. Y., where he was born December 23, 1923.

Mr. Debus attended elementary schools in Wood-Ridge, N. J., and graduated from the Wood-Ridge High School in 1941. He continued his educational pursuits at Wagner College, Staten Island, N. Y., where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1949. He obtained a Master's degree in Business Administration at New York University in 1951.

Served In Army
He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi, and held the offices of vice president and treasurer of this fraternity.

He served three and a half years in the U. S. Army during World War II and was discharged as a medical staff sergeant. He is a member of the National Association of Educational Buyers; Eastern Association of College and University Business Officers and of the Lions Club of Gettysburg. He is also a member of the Wagner Alumni Association and of the Alumni Association of New York University Graduate School of Business.

He married Miss Miriam Fielding of River Edge, N. J., and they have two children, Sandra Jeanne, three years, and Jeffrey Richard, one year. The family resides at 247 Highland Ave.

Alma Mater

Words By Gilbert, '22
Music By Reinartz, '24

As softly the evening shadows
Are veiling the campus towers,
We come a band of good fellows,
To sing in the twilight hours;
The worn walls of chapel anew;
The silvery moonlight mingles
The wind in the trees sweetly echoes
Our praises of Orange and Blue.

Whenever thy loyal sons gather,
To awaken fond memories,
Our thoughts shall be turned, Alma Mater,
Old Gettysburg, back to thee.

Forever am I thy debtor,
And whatever else I may do,
I'll Love, I'll Defend, and I'll Honor,
The glorious Orange and Blue.

ENROLLMENT IN CANADIAN SCHOOLS DROPS

OTTAWA — Students at most Canadian universities will have more working room this fall than in recent years. Many veterans graduated in June, and with registrations for classes fewer it is expected living accommodations will be easier to obtain.

With the exception of the University of Western Ontario, most large Canadian colleges have reported drops of from 3 to 4 per cent in registrations as compared with last year, a Canadian Press survey showed. The University of Toronto dropped 500 from last year's enrollment of 12,500.

Other Drops Reported
Similar percentage drops were reported at McGill University, in Montreal, and the Universities of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and New Brunswick.

The University of Manitoba reported a drop of 5 to 7 per cent. The lower birth rate of the 1930's was held responsible for decreased enrollment at the University of Alberta.

But interest in higher education is still high. The University of Western Ontario, at London, expects registrations to rise slightly, for applications from high school students are heavier than in 1951.

Rise In Nova Scotia
Bigger - than - last - year enrollments were reported from most

Nova Scotia colleges and from Mount Allison University, in New Brunswick. The Calgary branch of the University of Alberta expects enrollment to rise over low 1951 figures.

While students are expected to find shelter easier to get, in many centers the problem is still real. Married students in Montreal and Toronto are having difficulty. Newfoundland's Memorial University at St. John's is planning new accommodations.

In the West, arts and science courses are most popular, while at Montreal engineering and medicine hold that rank. Medical and dental faculties at Montreal, Toronto and other points are overrun with applications months in advance and many would-be doctors are turned away.

Travel Long Distances
Special courses reflect the country where the university is situated, with students often traveling long distances to get the training they want.

Vancouver draws students from the East with its courses on lumbering and commercial fishing. The University of Toronto has introduced an extension course on forest conservation, a pressing problem in Ontario.

At Charlton College in Ottawa, a graduate course in public administration — reflecting the interests of Ottawa's 28,000 civil servants — is being offered this year. And the University of New Brunswick's forestry course is still drawing students country-wide.

Montreal Drops Greek
The University of Montreal has dropped Greek as a compulsory subject for a B. A. degree and near-by McGill University has introduced a study of Islam. Carleton College is reworking its curriculum to intensify study in specialized fields.

The University of New Brunswick's new business administration course is gaining wide attention in the Maritimes. Great interest in this field is also being shown at Windsor's Assumption College and London's University of Western Ontario.

Ben Chapman, now a coach for the Cincinnati Reds, led the American League in stolen bases in 1931, '32 and '33. He tied for the honors in 1937.

Adrian "Pop" Anson, star for ace southpaw hurler for the Yankees, claims that Sal Maglie is the best pitcher in the big leagues in the last 15 years.

the Chicago Cubs before the turn of the century, was a student at Notre Dame and introduced the game of baseball there in 1887.

Inauguration Of Dr. Langsam Will Be Held October 25th, College Home-coming Day

In the first ceremony of its kind on the campus in nearly three decades, Dr. Walter Consuelo Langsam will be inaugurated as the eighth president of Gettysburg College at ceremonies to be conducted in Memorial Stadium Saturday morning, October 25.

Representatives of hundreds of American colleges and universities will be here for the inauguration and will take part in the inaugural procession that will precede the formal exercises. They will occupy seats of honor in the stadium.

Invited delegates and other guests will register at the SCA building on the campus at 9 o'clock the morning of Inauguration Day.

Governor Fine Invited
The academic procession will form at the SCA building at 10 o'clock and will move to Memorial Stadium. If rain alters plans, the inaugural ceremony will be tion of Parker B. Wagnild.

After the inaugural exercises, Dr. and Mrs. Langsam will greet the invited delegates and alumni in the Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium and at 1 p.m. there will be a luncheon for the invited delegates at Huber Hall.

The final event on the day's schedule will be the Home-coming Day football game with Muhlenberg College in Memorial Stadium at 2:30 p.m.

Many Alumni Coming
Planned for the annual Alumni Home-coming week end, the inaugural events will find hundreds of alumni on the campus. John S. Rice, member of the Board of Trustees, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The inauguration is the first held on the campus since October 19, 1923, when Dr. W. A. Hanson was inducted into office at exercises held in a large tent erected for that occasion on the campus.

He succeeded Dr. W. A. Granville who had held office for 13 years. At the Hanson inaugural, prayer was offered by the late Dr. A.E. Wagner of the board of trustees.

The salutatory address was given by Prof. William J. Gies of Columbia University of the Class of 1893. John F. Dapp, the president of the Board of Trustees, formally inducted Dr. Hanson into office and Dr. John B. McAllister of the Class of '34 introduced the visiting delegates. President Charles J. Smith of Roanoke, a classmate of Dr. Hanson, extended greetings of the delegates. Dr. M. H. Valentine of the Class of '32 represented the faculty and Henry Wolf Biele of the Class of '37 spoke on behalf of the alumni. Frederick E. Reinart, then a member of the Senior Class at the college, extended greetings to the student body.

Football Game At 2:30

The formal induction ceremony to be conducted by Dr. Charles M. A. Stine as president of the Board of Trustees of the college will follow and then the new president will deliver his inaugural.

There will be special music by the College Choir under the direc-

DOGS BOTHER MAILMEN
WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina letter carriers are doggone tired of fighting with snapping dogs.

At their state convention here recently the mailmen voted to ask the next Legislature to make owners liable for actions of their pets. But they admitted it would be hard to set up standards of what is a vicious dog.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — A two day conference of classified advertising managers, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, was opened here Friday.

John Duff, chairman of the PNPA classified advertising committee and classified manager for the Uniontown papers, was to preside at the opening session.

College Hymn

Blessing and honor, and glory and power,

Wisdom and riches, and strength evermore,

Give ye to Him Who our battle hath won.

Whose are the kingdom, the crown and the throne,

Whose are the kingdom, the crown and the throne.

Dwell with the light of the glory with Him,

Light of the glory that cannot grow dim.

Light in its silence and beauty and calm,

Light in its gladness and brightness and balm,

Light in its gladness and brightness and balm.

and balm.

Ever ascendeth the song and the joy,

Ever descendeth the love from on high,

Blessing, and honor, and glory, and praise.

This is the theme of the hymn that we raise,

This is the theme of the hymn that we raise.

Life of all life, and true light of all light,

Star of the dawning, unchangingly bright,

Sing we the song of the lamb that was slain,

Dying in weakness, but rising to reign,

Dying in weakness, but rising to reign.

Ex-Actress Miscast In Alcoholic Part

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Judge Wilbur F. Downs, who recently celebrated his 25th year as a Long Beach municipal court jurist, says a lot of strange cases have appeared before his bench. For instance, says the judge, there was a former Broadway actress turned alcoholic. After appearing on drunk charges a dozen times she was treated at a sanitarium and released as cured.

Almost a year later, said the jurist, she appeared again bedraggled and bleary-eyed. It seems she has been screen-tested for a skid-row drunk part in a movie but the director decided she was completely miscast.
